

New Strait Challenger

JOHN GIESE... he'll try Strait.

WANTED TO GO IT ALONE

25-Year-Old German Will Try Big Swim

By DENNY BOYD

Another aspiring challenger of the Strait of Juan de Fuca arrived unannounced in the city over the Easter holiday.

He is 25-year-old John Giese, of Vancouver, an escapee from East Germany who has been in Canada only three years.

Giese, who has been swimming long distances for pleasure since he was a youngster, arrived here with the idea of jumping into the Strait and swimming it by himself without the aid of a tug or tender.

He was dissuaded from this after discussing it with the Times and with experts of Island Tug and Barge Company who have been connected with all the Strait attempts.

At press time today he was attempting to make arrangements, despite a warning that only on Wednesday and Thursday of this week are tides likely to be favorable.

"I want to do it soon, because I am going to be in Summerland, B.C., working for the rest of the summer," he said. His wife-to-be is a Summerland girl, and once married he does not feel his wife would want him to try.

HARDY INDIVIDUAL

Giese has already made practice swims off Dallas Road, swimming one and one-half hours Sunday. Typical of his Spartan attitude to the swim is the fact that Sunday, he walked down to the waterfront, changed into his swimming trunks there, made his swim and, after emerging, "went for a walk to warm myself up."

Giese says the swim is "a challenge." He has been hoping to try it since last summer, when Florence Chadwick was defeated by the cruel 18 miles of turbulent water.

Giese wanted to make his Strait bid alone because "I realize there is some danger in the swim and I did not want to involve anyone but myself. I wanted to take the full responsibility."

In preparation for the swim, Giese has been practicing for

B.C. Flash Flood

NAKUSE, B.C. (CP)—Residents today are reviewing the damage of a flash flood from a small, unnamed creek which caught the village by surprise during the week-end, wiping out gardens and threatening homes.

Thomas Starts Strait Assault Wed. at 9 P.M.

Horseshoe Bay Take-Off Site

Weather permitting, Bert Thomas will begin his attempt at swimming Juan de Fuca Strait at 9 p.m. Wednesday from Horseshoe Bay, the spot chosen last August by fellow American Florence Chadwick.

The announcement was made this morning by Captain Hugh Evans, the Tacoma swimmer's navigator from Island Tug and Barge Ltd., who was not too optimistic that weather would clear in time for the swim.

Should weather or water conditions be unfavorable, the swim will be postponed until 10 p.m. Thursday. If still poor Thursday, no further attempt will be made until possibly the second week of May, Captain Evans said.

The swimmer will remain in the city until his swim can be started.

When Thomas leaves Horseshoe Bay on a flood tide in a south-southeasterly direction, the current should take him to a point east of Constance Bank, or about 4 1/4 miles from the bay.

The course will then be set for south-southwest for a little over eight miles on an ebb tide. This course should carry Thomas approximately southwest of Race Rocks to low slack tide.

TIDE ASSIST

Third leg of the course should be in a south-by-easterly direction for about six miles with a light flood tide to assist. This should put the 29-year-old Tacoma on Ediz Hook at the mouth of Port Angeles harbor at the end of an estimated 11 1/2 hours swimming time.

Vessels in the Thomas flotilla likely will include the tugs Island Champion, Island Trooper and Island Rascal, and the private schooner Black Dog.

With trainer Maurie Hume and Marion Thomas, Bert's wife, in the small boat near the swimmer will be Captain Evans' brother Dave, who will row or operate an outboard if one having a clutch can be obtained.

Official timers for the marathon will be Lionel Dickson, Doug Hobbs and Courtney Hadcock.

TRAINS TONIGHT

Final training jaunt will be made tonight at 6, between Clover Point and Trial Island. Thomas plans to leave the Causeway between 5 and 5:30 p.m.

Slated to begin her training at the end of May for an attempt on the strait "sometime in July, when the water warms up," is Mrs. Ann Meraw, Vancouver housewife, who was in Victoria Sunday for a look around, and short workout at Crystal Garden.

Mrs. Meraw believes she holds the record for a 14-mile swim between Vancouver and Bowen Island at the mouth of Howe Sound. She is 36 years old and was an active swimmer for 16 years before her marriage. She has a 14-year-old son.

Mrs. Meraw said she would come to Victoria about the end of next month and stay until her swim trial.

A Torontonian, Pat Roach, will be in her boat during the swim, she said.

Wolves Win To Regain Second Spot

LONDON (Reuters)—Wolverhampton Wanderers today rebounded into the race for the English League Division I soccer honors by edging Aston Villa 1-0 and so regaining second place behind Chelsea.

Wolverhampton is five points behind Chelsea, with two fewer games played.

It still has an outside chance of winning the league title for the second straight year.

Manchester City, which moved briefly into second spot after Saturday's games, dropped back to third by losing 2-1 to West Bromwich Albion. It is tied with Portsmouth, which fought back after being two goals down for a 2-2 tie with Charlton Athletic. (See scores Page 3).

Red Delegates Lost In Airliner Crash

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—An Indian airliner carrying members of the Chinese Communist delegation to next week's Indonesia conference has crashed into the sea about 100 miles north of Kuching, Sarawak.

In New Delhi, L. C. Jain, Indian director-general of civil aviation, confirmed the crash of the chartered four-engine Air India Constellation and said the possibility of anyone being saved was "remote."

A report from Hong Kong quoted a usually reliable source as saying the airliner had 11 passengers aboard, of whom eight were minor Communist Chinese officials. The source said the others were two Polish journalists, Dr. Friedrich Jensen and Jeremi Starec, and a North Vietnamese named Vyong Phiphphung.

Radio reports monitored here said the plane had sent three SOS signals giving its position as 108 miles north of Kuching. All ships in the area were asked to look for the plane.

TWO KILLED IN HEAD-ON CAR CRASH

King George Highway Scene of Tragedy

(From BUP and CP)

VANCOUVER — Two people were killed and two others seriously injured in a head-on collision on the King George Highway, 25 miles south of here, Sunday night.

The accident took the life of Peter Dingle of Vancouver and Mrs. Elda Carson, 28, of Bremerton, Wash.

A spokesman at the Royal Columbian Hospital said that Bob Irwin of Vancouver and Clarence Carlton, Bremerton, Wash., were in "good condition."

The RCMP said one of the vehicles was trying to pass another on the highway and smashed into the second car.

The accident was the only fatal one of the Easter weekend reported in B.C.

Nearly two-thirds of those who died violently in Canada during the three-day Easter holiday weekend were killed in traffic accidents.

The toll was at least 35 with traffic accidents taking 22 lives. Warm weather and clear skies were general across Canada, drawing motorists to the highways.

ONTARIO HIGHEST

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Thursday showed Ontario with the highest toll—15. Quebec was second with nine.

No deaths were reported from Newfoundland, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Nova Scotia had one traffic fatality.

Eight deaths were reported from the Prairie provinces. Alberta had four while Saskatchewan and Manitoba had two each.

Drownings took four lives and two persons died in fires. There were two accidental shootings.

Ottawa Receives Report on Probe Of Loss Leaders

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has received a report from the restrictive trade practices commission on its investigation into the extent and use of loss leader selling by retailers.

Justice Minister Garson said the report will be tabled in the Commons shortly after the House reconvenes following the Easter recess. Its contents will remain secret until the tabling.

The three-member commission sat for four weeks last fall at Vancouver, Victoria, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa.

Red Delegates Lost In Airliner Crash

Jakarta radio said air control asked the plane if the Chinese premier, Chou En-Lai, was aboard. The reply from the plane was "negative," the radio said.

The plane, operated by the Indian state airline, Air India, was on a flight from Hong Kong to Jakarta, Indonesia, the reports said.

Communist China is one of 29 Asian and African countries attending the meeting, which starts April 18 in Bandung, Indonesia. (See page 22.)

Starts Here Monday

Next Monday about 5,000 Greater Victoria children will start receiving injections of famed Salk anti-polio vaccine at city schools. Dr. Jonas E. Salk is seen above supervising an injection. Grade ones and pre-grade ones will get free injections. City drugstores expect stocks of vaccine shortly for sale to doctors. But stocks will be limited.

Bandit Kidnaps Pair, Robs Safe of $1,447

Vancouver Theatre Owner, Mother Tied to Doorpost After Armed Holdup

VANCOUVER (CP)—A bandit kidnapped a drive-in cinema owner and his mother early today, drove them to the theatre, and at gunpoint forced them to open a safe and hand over $1,447.

William Steel, 35, and his mother, Mrs. Ada I. Steel, were taken by surprise when the gunman intercepted them as they arrived at their suburban Burnaby home after a midnight show.

Mr. Steel attacked the bandit with an iron but he was stunned by a blow over the head with a revolver.

The man then tied their hands with wire and drove to the cinema.

Before escaping with $1,447, he tied Mr. Steel and his mother to the doorpost of the projection room.

The gunman drove off in the Steel's car, which was later recovered in the east end district of Vancouver.

Mr. Steel managed to free himself and call police.

"I saw him standing in the dark when I walked into the kitchen," Mr. Steel told RCMP in Burnaby.

"The man didn't say anything but I knew what he was up to. The ironing board was nearby so I just grabbed the iron and threw it at him. It landed a little too low. And then he slugged me with the revolver."

B.C. Unionist Stirs Storm In Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (BUP)—Former Canadian trade unionist Jim Bury has caused a storm of anger throughout Kenya by describing working conditions in the colony as "lousy."

Bury, former secretary of the Vancouver labor council, is in Kenya as "ambassador of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions."

In a recent article in the American CIO Journal, Bury criticized Kenya conditions.

"The small European settler group of 40,000 monopolize all the good land in Kenya," he wrote. "The minimum wage, and often the maximum, is $7 a month. On $7, you are lucky to stay alive."

Bury's article was reproduced by the leading Nairobi newspapers and was followed immediately by demands that he be deported.

Panic Spreads as New Earthquake Rocks Mindanao in Philippines

MANILA (Reuters)—An earthquake, which seismologists fear may be worse than the disaster 10 days ago in which some 400 persons were killed, shook Mindanao Island in the southern Philippines today.

In Dansalan City, where 350 persons died in the earlier quake, the residents panicked, according to reports received here.

No definite report of casualties or damage in today's earthquake was received.

The latest reports on Mindanao's earlier earthquake list 416 dead, 792 injured and 151 missing; Lake Lanao, near Dansalan City, dropped six feet and many natives died in the villages along its shores.

Prisoners in Dansalan City jail tried to escape at the height of today's earthquake which damaged prison buildings. Disorder broke out but no one escaped.

The Philippines News Service said many persons were injured in the Lake Lanao area today. Residents in the Marantau district on the west shore of the lake reported "a yard-wide fissure extending several miles."

"All buildings partially damaged by the recent quakes collapsed during this morning's tremors," PNS reported.

Weather bureau officials said the latest quakes resulted from "a shock readjustment of the earth's crust following the earlier strong shocks."

90% Success Seen By Medical Experts; Data Due Tuesday

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—This college town seethed with rumors today over the Salk polio vaccine—mostly high optimism that it has been a success and can end the fear of polio.

Guesses as to the effectiveness of the vaccine ranged up to 90 per cent or higher, or called it "an unqualified success."

But the big secret—just how well it worked in tests last year—was being kept securely under wraps.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., who completed writing his 100-page report only Sunday, wasn't talking.

He will reveal his findings at 7:20 a.m. (PST) Tuesday to a scientific gathering of 400 scientists and physicians.

NO SPECIFIC CLUES

A press conference this morning by top polio vaccine leaders did nothing to dampen the general optimism, nor did it yield specific clues.

Dr. Francis, University of Michigan; Dr. Jonas Salk, University of Pittsburgh scientist who developed vaccine; and Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, answered some questions but not others.

Dr. Salk will present a scientific report on the vaccine after Dr. Francis discloses his mass test findings. Dr. Salk has completed this report without knowing what Dr. Francis will say.

It is understood Dr. Salk will report new findings on improving the vaccine since its use a year ago in the tests.

He finds it clearly safe to use, and potent in producing protective antibodies, from his tests on some 8,000 children.

But the big question is whether these antibodies protect children exposed to actual polio. Only the huge-scale tests could answer that. Dr. Salk's own series of tests is too small to give the answer.

SOME DON'T RESPOND

Dr. Francis and Dr. Salk hinted today that the vaccine would not be expected to produce the same degree of protection for everyone inoculated.

Dr. Francis said he would give "numerical expressions" of the effectiveness of the vaccine but would not necessarily pronounce it a success or failure.

How the public will react to the big announcement concerns some scientists on the scene:

MORAL TEST

"It could become a test of our moral fibre," one scientist said. "Will it start a stampede, like a theatre fire, to get vaccine at any cost? Will there be bootlegging, venality?"

"Or will parents demand intelligent self-control of themselves and others to insist the vaccine be used where it will do the most good to reduce polio—among young children and pregnant women?"

"Suppose the vaccine is found ineffective, or less than perfect? How much dismay or loss of confidence may result? A vaccine can be a success without being surefire. Fireproofing buildings does not eliminate all fires, but it does drastically reduce the amount of destruction."

SANDBAGS RUSHED

The village of Elie, 22 miles west of Winnipeg, appealed for sandbags and boats as water from the Assiniboine poured over low-lying land and into the nearby Lasalle River channel. Two boats and 1,000 sandbags were rushed to the community.

At least 10 homes in the west end of Elie were surrounded. Neighboring farmers reported two feet of water in their homes.

In Winnipeg, sewage pumping stations, installed along dikes after a disastrous flood in 1950 caused sewers to back up into basements, got their first workout today in three localities.

HOMES CIRCLED BY WATER

More than 100 homes south-east of Winnipeg were surrounded by water from the normally placid Seine River which joins the Red at Winnipeg. At least four bridges were submerged. Water covered the tracks of the Soo Line railway bridge but traffic continued.

Police said some homes had been evacuated.

South Manitoba Freshets Flood Rich Farmlands

Bridges Submerged, Homes Surrounded

WINNIPEG (CP)—Spring freshets sent creeks and rivers over their banks in southern Manitoba during the week-end, flooding thousands of acres of rich farmland and scores of rural basements. No casualties were reported.

Hardest hit as the spring runoff was accelerated by a record April 10 temperature of 76 degrees were the outskirts of suburban St. Vital, southeast of Winnipeg, and the Oakville-Poplar Point district, 30 miles west of here.

The Red River today had reached 17 feet above average winter ice level and was continuing to rise at the rate of one-tenth of a foot an hour. Engineering officials said no flood was expected on the Red. First flood stage is 18.6 feet above winter ice, and dikes protect the city up to 26.5 feet and as high as 30.3 feet in places.

Easter Sermons Call on World To Keep Peace

500,000 Jam St. Peter's Square To Hear Pope; Many Fashion Parades

(By The Canadian Press) Christians thronged churches in many lands Sunday to worship in traditional Easter services commemorating the resurrection of Christ.

At Vatican City, the Pope sought to comfort a troubled world by blessing the peaceful uses rather than the potential destructiveness of atomic power. He spoke to a crowd estimated at between 400,000 and 500,000 in St. Peter's Square.

At York, England, the Arch-

Queen Holds Family Party

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh entertained at a family party at Windsor Castle. Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret were there.

The Royal Family attended Easter service in St. George's chapel at the royal estate. During the day more than 30,000 sightseers strolled through the grounds.

A record crowd of 2,000,000 joined the Fifth Avenue Easter parade in New York as the city basked in 77-degree weather, warmest of the year.

By contrast, Britain and Western Europe had chill weather

Observed Behind Iron Curtain

Easter was observed behind the Iron Curtain too. A broadcast by Peiping radio said Christians in Communist China observed Easter with religious services. The radio said more than 3,000 Catholics attended "the grand mass" in Peiping Cathedral and that services were held in several Protestant churches.

The Russian news agency Tass said Roman Catholic churches in all towns of Lithuania were filled with worshippers coming for confession and holy communion.

In Spain, Easter bull fights attracted thousands after solemn religious pageants during the week.

Thousands of Canadians flocked to churches Sunday to celebrate Christ's Resurrection, but for one tiny Quebec village Easter had a two-fold significance.

The men and women of St. Hilaire knelt in prayer to give thanks for the ending of a siege that locked their village in isolation for 19 wintry days.

A giant bulldozer ended the siege Saturday when it plowed through towering snowdrifts to cut a path to the hunger-threatened village. Its arrival lifted the threat from the 265 villagers of the community 75 miles south of Quebec.

While St. Hilaire recovered from winter, many other parts of Canada basked in warm sunshine that swelled crowds at Easter parades.

Toronto, with a high of 71 degrees, had two parades, at Sunnyside and on Bloor Street, but the temperature wasn't a

United Church, Ottawa, Burns; Suspect Arson

Elder Dies, 20 Hurt In $250,000 Blaze

OTTAWA (CP)—Chalmers United Church, home of one of capital's oldest and largest Protestant congregations, was severely damaged by fire, smoke and water on Easter Sunday.

A fire that raged through the Sunday school hall and church offices Sunday night was quenched after 7 1/2 hours as it threatened to take hold of the domed roof above the main section of the huge stone edifice in downtown Ottawa.

The main auditorium was blackened with smoke and soaked with water. Many of its windows, once closed with closely stained glass, gaped today where firemen had been forced to smash them. Damage was expected to be more than $250,000.

Twenty firemen were admitted to hospital for treatment when overcome by smoke.

Alex. W. MacDonald, a senior elder of the church, collapsed and died of a heart attack as he brought a blanket from inside the building for a prostrated fireman.

CROWD WATCHES

A crowd numbering near the thousands, many of them from the more than 2,000-member congregation of the church, watched the destruction. Many of the church members helped save books, papers and movable furniture from the main auditorium including the pulpit.

The possibility of arson was being investigated by police and fire department inspectors. It was the third fire in the area in three days and the second at that intersection within 12 hours.

Rev. A. Leonard Griffith, pastor of the church for the last five years, was one of the first on the scene.

Records of the church, whose congregation first met in a rented hall in 1865, were believed unharmed in a fireproof vault in the water-filled basement.

The church was opened in 1913 to replace the original building built in 1868. The congregation had planned to celebrate its 90th anniversary next Sunday. The church is insured for $500,000.

Gee Expelled By IBEW Union For Communism

VANCOUVER (CP)—George Gee, business agent for the Vancouver local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-ILWU), has been expelled from his union.

The expulsion, following a 15-day trial by international officers, followed charges of Communist activities.

The move was announced during the week-end by John Raymond of Toronto, international vice-president. The suspension is the first handed an IBEW officer in Vancouver since 1920.

Mr. Gee was found guilty by the international union officers on 13 charges, all based on alleged Communist activity. He said Sunday he will appeal the findings.

Mr. Gee and a score of other members of Local 213 were suspended Jan. 14 after charges of radical affiliations were made to the international by other union members.

Of the rank-and-file members suspended one was cleared and the others found guilty at a union trial several weeks ago. They were suspended for terms ranging from 10 to 15 years.

Easter Church-Goers Set City Record

Victorians Establish New Mark by Turnout For Rites; Sunrise Gatherings Popular

Easter church services, brightened by spring sunshine and the traditional parade of new suits and bonnets Sunday broke all records for divine service attendance in Greater Victoria.

The city's largest church, Christ Church Cathedral, turned worshippers away after placing extra seats for crowds who attended seven services between 6 a.m. Communion and 7:30 p.m. Evensong.

Dean P. R. Beattie said today the Sunday crowds were the largest ever to appear at the church.

OUTDOOR SERVICES

Sunrise services, which started between 6 and 8 p.m. drew hundreds to chilly hillsides throughout the district.

About 100 attended a Victoria United Young People's Union gathering at Mount Douglas at 6 a.m.

At 7:45 a.m., 750 persons stood in a natural rocky amphitheatre in Beacon Hill Park, near South Park School, where the Salvation Army Band played for the Gideons International service. Speaker was Hugh R. Colridge, western secretary of the Gideons in Canada.

Other open-air, early morning services were held at the Beacon Hill Park Lookout, where CGIT girls gathered to hear Rev. Laura Butler, and at Tillicum Outdoor Theatre.

Several city churches held two morning services and in nearly every case the seats were filled.

St. Andrew's Cathedral held special masses to celebrate the Easter season from Thursday through Sunday and also reported the largest gross attendance on record.

Another possible record was established at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church where ushers reported many persons had to be turned away.

FDR, Dead 10 Years, Lives On in Memory

BY MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House
Reporter

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (UP) — Ten years ago Tuesday Franklin D. Roosevelt was sitting in a white clapboard cottage here, posing for a portrait. It was 1.15 p.m.

Suddenly he clapped his hand to the back of his head. His face twitched in pain and he said: "I have a terrible headache."

Two hours and 20 minutes later he was dead.

The man is gone but he still lives here in the minds and hearts of the people who reside around and near the "little white house."

Looking around the cottage you get the idea that Mr. Roosevelt merely has stepped out for a few minutes. His old floppy Panama hat rests on a cupboard shelf just off the kitchen. His wheel chair waits by the front door. His monogrammed towels are stacked in an open linen closet. Fala's leash hangs from a hook in another closet as though the venerable Scottie were waiting for a walk along the wooded paths outside the house.

SCENE REVISITED
I have just been back revisiting Warm Springs. It seems such a shorter time than 10 years. The epic events of those days still stand out in great headlines in my memory.

The Second World War was racing to its victorious close. Mr. Roosevelt had just returned from Yalta and had come here for one of those breaks that had so often refreshed him. But the signs of his coming death were there for those who looked closely.

I shall never forget the sultry Easter of April 1 when he went for the last time to the small white chapel on the grounds of the Warm Springs Foundation. Around him in the church were his fellow victims of infantile paralysis.

... not forgotten

During the service FDR's head began to shake and quiver in the manner of a palsied man. A loud chord from the choir made his head bob even more pronouncedly. Sweat burst from his forehead and his glasses fell suddenly from his face to the seat of the pew.

CHILD WONDERED
A wide-eyed youngster on a litter lay nearby. He looked in surprise at the president, then at one of the foundation officials. The man shrugged his shoulders mutely as if to say, "I don't know."

A few days later he had three of us reporters in for a talk. We sat on a small couch in his tiny workroom. It was cluttered with mail, documents just flown in from Washington by special courier, newspapers and other personal odds and ends.

We talked about the forthcoming United Nations conference in San Francisco and a host of other subjects.

He smoked constantly, fitting cigarettes into his much-carved and burned ivory holder. Each time he lighted what he called "a cig," it seemed to require unusual effort on his part to scratch a kitchen match. I'd never seen his hands shake so badly.

Five days later he was posing for the New York artist, Elizabeth Shoumatoff. He was in the living room of the cottage, sitting somewhat despondently, grey and tired in a leather chair given to him by members of his "Cuff Links Gang" who had tried to elect him vice-president in 1920.

When he suddenly collapsed and sagged against the side of the chair, the artist was terrified. The president's cousin, Laura Delano, raced from the rear of the room where she had been sewing and cried out for help.

GASPED LIFE AWAY
House servants carried him to his small bedroom. He was unconscious. Secret service agents outside the cottage could hear him gasping for his life. He never recovered consciousness. He died at 3.35 p.m. of the cerebral hemorrhage.

When I revisited the cottage last week it was a gray, rainy day. The stream of tourists (110,000 a year) dropped their voices as they entered. They looked in silence at the unfinished Shoumatoff portrait. It has been left exactly as it was when the artist dropped her brush in dismay.

As I talked to the people here who remember FDR so well, it was amazing to me that not one of them, not even some of his closest old friends, discussed his politics, his impact on the world's affairs.

Here they talk of Roosevelt the man. They speak of what he has done for people who are crippled as he was.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP)—The pro-government newspaper El Lider and La Prensa said editorially Sunday that separation of church and state in Argentina should be brought about as soon as possible.

Election May Shorten Churchill's Holiday

LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill, who leaves Tuesday for a vacation in Sicily, will return to fight for his parliamentary seat if a general election is called, it was learned authoritatively today.

The 80-year-old statesman, who retired Tuesday as prime minister, will fight for a seat in the House of Commons if an indefinite stay but will cut short the holiday if his successor, Prime Minister Eden, issues an early election call. Eden spent today at his country home with his chancellor of the exchequer, R. A. B. Butler, in a meeting which may decide whether he gambles his new government by calling an election in the near future. Constitutionally Eden can call for a vote at any time before the Conservative party's five-year term expires next year, and it has been predicted he will set one for May 26.

Butler is believed to favor an early election.

The National Policy

THE OTTAWA JOURNAL, MOST reliable organ of the Conservative Party, warns it against its traditional policy of high tariffs. "There is no future for Canada in higher tariffs and little future for any party committed to such a policy," The Journal says.

In the thinking of all former Conservative Governments this is plain heresy. The last Conservative Government, under Lord Bennett, raised tariffs to an all-time peak. Thus The Journal is pretty optimistic if it thinks that its warning will convert the successors of the Bennett Government, for in Parliament recently many of them have been advocating a return to the old policy.

True, they do not disclose their intentions with Lord Bennett's candor, they always speak of some particular local industry requiring particular protection, but the end result of their pressure would be the same. It will take more than The Journal to remove tariffs from the controversy of our politics and that ancient issue has lately been revived with a new vigor with Mr. Harris' latest warning to the United States against trade restriction.

After reading a lecture to its Party on the importance of Canada's foreign trade, which requires massive imports to assure massive exports, The Journal concludes that if Sir John A. Macdonald were alive today "he would not stand where he stood in the 1870s."

That is a broad statement. If Macdonald were alive today he would stand precisely where he stood when he launched the National Policy. Like all successful Canadian prime ministers he was a pragmatist, highly skeptical of fixed theories and attempting always to balance the conflicting pressures of a diverse country. It was only when he had failed to secure tariff reciprocity with the United States that he moved gingerly into protectionism and he was always ready to reduce tariffs if the United States would do the same. And when Laurier negotiated the reciprocity agreement of 1911 the Conservative Party, under Borden, hesitated for some time before opposing it.

Whether Canada's decision against

Laurier and reciprocity was wise or unwise is irrelevant today since it cannot be repealed, but the basis of the National Policy has remained unimpaired. Its latest expression is the St. Laurent Government's decision to defy geography and pipe Alberta gas to the St. Lawrence instead of exporting it to the United States.

Apart from the issue of 1911, the actual question in practical politics has never been outright free trade versus outright protection but the level of Canadian tariffs within pretty narrow limits. The Liberal Party has generally favored the lowest practical level and the Conservative Party the highest. That is the situation in Parliament today.

It is commonly said, therefore, that no real difference divides the parties since they quarrel over a few percentage points in the tariff schedules.

This is a superficial view popular with politicians who wish to evade the real issue; for in practice a few points in the tariff schedules may have vast effects on trade. An inch or two shaved off the tariff dam can produce a flood of trade. A minor increase in the barrier can instantly reduce imports.

The policies of the two parties must be judged by their intended effect on the actual movement of goods. The Liberal Party, with occasional back-sliding, has attempted to encourage trade in theory and in practice has expanded it to the highest level ever known in a nation of our size. The Conservative Party, while favoring trade in principle, has always restricted it in practice and is still following that policy today, despite The Journal.

The issue stands just about where it has always stood—a pragmatic Liberal policy of maximum exports and maximum imports, a pragmatic Conservative policy of maximum exports and minimum imports. The basic dispute lies between the Liberal belief that exports will not reach a profitable maximum unless imports are held roughly at the same level and the Conservative belief that we can export far more than we import, rig the world market, have our cake and eat it, too.

The Lost Children

ONE OF THE MOST ABOMINABLE international crimes of the postwar period was the communists' kidnapping of 28,000 Greek children in 1948. It was at a time when Greece's communist neighbors were actively supporting a Red insurrection in the northern part of the country.

As the fighting was terminated, largely due to the vigorous aid provided under President Truman's famous "Point" program, the communist forces withdrew across the Greek borders into adjacent Red territory. With them, by force, went the innocent hostages—many adults and many, many children.

Now this crime is about to be completed. After seven years of communist indoctrination the children, now youths and young women, are to be returned. Hungary, Poland and other satellites of the Soviet Union are suddenly proposing that Greece accept thousands of the refugees almost overnight.

When Poland offered to repatriate 6,000 Greeks in the middle of winter, when it would have been almost impossible to handle the influx, Greece asked if the initial number could be reduced to 2,500 and the date deferred. Poland's answer, it is said, was to raise the contingent to 11,000.

India and the Sacred Cow

MR. NEHRU HAS REVEALED another facet of the new India. His opposition to a bill which would have prevented the killing of any cow in his country, marks a departure from the western belief that such animals cannot be harmed on the subcontinent.

The Prime Minister is in favor of preserving cattle. He finds, however, that existing practices—presumably the preservation of inferior animals—are resulting in an alarming deterioration of India's cows. Hence he is opposed to a bill which would prohibit their slaughter.

Here is an attitude which cuts sharply through a western preconception. For years it has been held that India's progress suffers from the dead drag of religious taboos. The sacred cow has even become a household word in western society. Apparently the belief is stronger than the fact in an India responding to education.

If this be so, the westerner may have to change a few of his habits of mind in relation to India. He may have to cast aside some of the legend which seems to block a better understanding of the Indian peoples. The cow is not so sacred, so inviolable, as it was thought to be. Westerners will profit by noting that fact and its implications.

Good Luck, Alberni

OLDER VICTORIANS, NO strangers to Canadian championship basketball fever a few years ago, can understand the excitement which grips Alberni this week.

The up-Island city's Athletics have progressed to the men's senior national finals and will host eastern Canada's champions. This is the goal on which the Alberni sporting public set its eyes several years ago.

With splendid community spirit, the up-Islanders have worked conscientiously toward it.

As they enter the championship round for the first time, the good wishes of Victoria are extended to them. May they succeed in their big test and may the healthy impetus they have given to good, clean competition among their younger people grow in strength.

Bread Upon the Waters

As Our Readers See It

HAPPINESS? NOT FOR THEM!

Thirty-seven old fogies in Canada's Senate have proclaimed that those of us, having made a mistake when marrying him or her, will have to go on living together in a worldly hell.

These so-called representatives of the Canadian people have not been able to see what the majority saw in England 18 years ago; in their narrow-mindedness, intolerance, "holier than thou" attitude, they don't care a hang about the thousands of couples who have made that mistake, many of whom could find happiness if they had another chance to look for same.

In their stodginess, their smugness, they only care for their prestige, their standing in those outdated "holier than thou" circles, professing of course, that their gods have ordained, shall not be put asunder by mere man! Talk about love!

A few years ago, two authors of an article about divorce laws in Liberty called this attitude a crime, committed by this clique and their henchmen, and a crime it is.

If Quebecois and others, similarly chained to century-old fetters in this respect, want to go on submitting to their self-appointed clergy, that is up to them, but no one has the right to commit this crime against the millions who think otherwise.

It is high time that some "Hurricane Harry" sweeps through that Senate and throws those thirty-seven in an abyss of their own making.

High time that the people take things in their own hands, and demand that this Senate be chosen in a democratic way, so that it really gets representative of all Canada.

WAGES, JOBS, EXPORTS

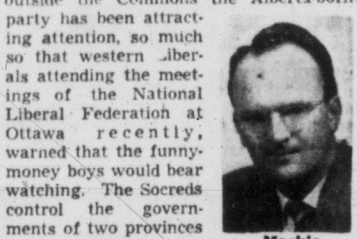

Labor and CCF leaders have been doing a lot of howling about unemployment lately, and demanding that the government at Ottawa provide work projects presumably at the highest prevailing or higher wages, as we still have organizations demanding higher wages and more fringe benefits.

Is it not about time the public generally ask a few questions: (1) Who is really to blame for the present unemployment? (2) Who is going to pay for these unproductive work projects at unproductive wages? (3) Is it not about time labor assumed some responsibility for its own employment?

If for one thing it is. There is evidence now that the high cost of production is pricing many of our products out of world markets.

A PEEK AT OTTAWA

THE Social Credit party in the Commons is not regarded as much of a political force. It holds 14 seats, ten less than the CCF group on the opposition side of the green-carpeted chamber. But outside the Commons the Alberta-born party has been attracting attention, so much so that western liberals attending the meetings of the National Liberal Federation at Ottawa recently, warned that the funny-money boys would bear watching. The Social Credit control the governments of two provinces and under the impetus of Premier W. A. C. Bennett's driving ambition, the movement is seeking new fields to conquer. Attempts by the Social Crediters to move into the other western provinces must be countered by vigorous organization, the western Liberals emphasized. Consequently the western provinces will find more federal ministers appearing in person as efforts are made to offset the eastward drive of Bennett's boys.

Mackie

Jack Pickersgill, Mr. Fixit for the Liberal party, did a neat job of removing the sting from a resolution presented to the National Liberal Federation dealing with radio and television. The latest rumor of a cabinet change involves the present postmaster general Alcide Cote. He has been seriously ill in hospital for several weeks and his health is now reported to be such that he may be forced to resign his post in the cabinet. The vacancy would be filled, it is suggested, by Mr. Rene Beaudoin leaving the Speaker's chair in the Commons to take a seat in the cabinet.

Agriculture has taken a substantial cut in prices now and will undoubtedly have to accept further cuts, which will put it in the position where it can not buy the products of labor—hence more unemployment. I believe it would be little short of criminal for the government to provide unproductive work projects at present wage levels.

It is my opinion that we would all be better off to take lower wages and profits and be in a position to compete in the world markets with our surplus goods. Think it over.

THY KINGDOM COME

On behalf of those who will undoubtedly benefit by the reading of these articles, on "The Power of Positive Thinking" by Mr. Peale, may I express grateful thanks?

In a materialistic age, in a world wherein the power of armed might holds sway, it is a profound relief to realize that the great majority of our neighbors are aware of a power divine, sovereign over all those things inimical to our well-being. That is why I have rather persistently maintained the suggestion that we have recourse to that Divine Beneficence for resolving the threat of atomic conflict.

Thousands of your readers must have given thanks to God in times of stress. Could we but realize that "Thy Kingdom come" is the ultimate, and inevitable answer to all the ills to which mankind is heir, and our hope of deliverance therefrom, maybe our desire would be profound, and earnest enough to bring results.

WILD RABBITS

You state (in Ask the Times) that there are no wild rabbits on this island. I would like to inform you there are quite a few in the bush off the Metchosin Road. I got one in my garage last fall when it was quite young and I still have it. A neighbor of mine shot one in his garden some time back.

They are becoming bolder and creeping up to the gardens at night now this part is being built up.

This one I got used to rush at me with both its front feet when I put my hand into the box to feed it, and it still comes for my hand if I offer to take away any of its food.

If any of your staff is out here he is at liberty to call and see it—a real wild rabbit.

WALTER HEWER,

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

LAST week I was taken to a Vancouver night club to see and hear Miss Josephine Baker, the captivating singer and dancer from Paris. And I was very lucky. It was her first appearance in British Columbia, and it will be her last. She has given up touring and will retire to her lovely home in France to look after her large brood of adopted orphans. She, as you probably know, is an American Negroess who early in her career settled in Paris and has made herself very French. Her adopted children are from all over the world... Colombia, Mexico, Senegal, Korea, Japan, Finland, France. There are eight of them, and the eldest is three. A few years from now there should be some stirring times. And I should think, rather happy times as well as lively ones.

SHE must be still under fifty. (How unchivalrous one grows when speculating about the age of an actress.) She has been on the stage only about twenty-five years, and she presumably began young. She still has a good many of the very lavish gifts she started with: a wonderfully smooth light brown skin, good legs, Oriental eyes, two of the most expressive hands in the business. I much prefer them to the more famous ones of Tilly Losch. Her dancing is excellent, and her singing is superb, whether in smooth French songs or violent Latin-American ones.

Incidentally, she preferred to call the latter Afro-American, and of course she is right... a good deal of our entertainment from Cuba and such places has more to do with Old Guinea than with Old Iberia. Not that Spain itself doesn't owe a lot to Africa, for both good things and horrible ones. The Moors were there a long time, and some haven't left yet.

HER voice is powerful, subtle, supple, and very appealing. It is a natural voice, and still fresh. If you were so foolish as to close your eyes, you would say that her voice, either speaking or singing, was that of a most unusual young person of twenty-odd. And this voice captures some, but by no means all, of her charm. She is a very great charmer. And a very considerable artist. That may seem a funny thing to say about a popular singer who appears in night clubs and the like. Nevertheless, an artist is just what she is. And any time I am tempted to despair about the taste of the poor old public, I'd do well to remind myself that the poor old public would be entranced by Josephine Baker any time, any place. She is very nearly magic.

A GOOD deal of art depends on intuition. On the instinct for feeling things, and doing them just right. Naturally, it isn't too common a gift. But I don't feel I'm exaggerating when I say Josephine Baker could do almost anything just right. So beautifully right that you feel at your ease and excited simultaneously... a queer combination. It is as though there were two of you.

one of you settling back in your chair with a sigh of contentment and saying "Ah, this is the real thing," and the other of you sitting bolt upright on the very edge of the chair and saying "Oh, you beauty, you beauty, I bet you can't do that again!"... and she does it again.

IF you are of a certain lucky temperament, to see anything done perfectly, even a bit of juggling or a fragment of pantomime, can somehow almost make you cry. (It is very hard to describe this without sounding silly.) The simplest thing Miss Baker did was to stroll round the stage with a tray of posies, and these she distributed among the people at the nearest tables, improvising a barely scanned, barely sung rhythmic patter about the recipients. The perfect grace with which she did this did not merely delight a very few alert or very drowsy customers, but had the whole room breathless. On paper, it sounds incredible. It was very nearly incredible on the spot. One thought afterwards of what Hildegarde (for example) would have made of such a trifle.

THE innocent art of the much-maligned geisha is to delight, and if possible to captivate, by every word, tone, glance, movement. To be the complete charmer. Charm to the highest possible artistic pitch, by Japanese standards. Miss Baker is, I suppose, at the very top of this art, by any standards. A unique French-American-African geisha on the grandest scale. But why I should tell you all this, if you had no way of seeing her show yourself, I cannot imagine. I suppose I have to tell somebody and stand in some danger of becoming a bore. I shall restrain myself. I'll not even tell you about the wags sequins on her rather pendulous lower lip, flashing there to match her Oriental address. You say it sounds awful. It wasn't, it was lovely.

PITTER PATTER

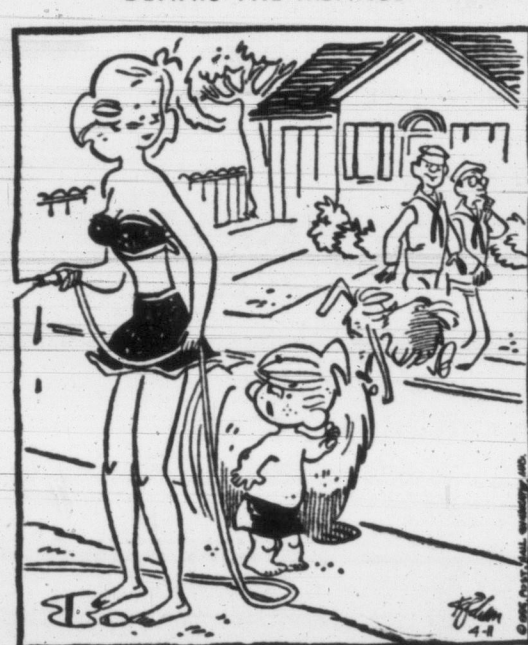

ON the same program, unhappily, there was a comedian from Brooklyn who unloaded a few songs and some very dreary patter. He was assisted by a young woman whose Christian name was Treasure. The interesting thing about most treasures is that there is a curse on them. I pronounced a curse on this one myself, but she already had one in her podner. His jokes got smuttier and clogged with all sorts of impurities, until finally my own partner (not named Treasure) said to me, "Do you remember reading in the Times that 29 tons of dirt fell on Vancouver every month or week or day or minute or something?" I said I did. "Well," she said, "make it 30."

MARKED FOR READING

Knowledge, far from being the key to success, very often leads to disaster. It certainly is at a discount in the army. "Anybody here familiar with paper work?" the sergeant would shout, and off our hopeful band of pen-pushers would go, trapped into picking up papers on the parade ground.

Eastern Liberals Alerted to the 'Funny Money Boys'

THE Social Credit party in the Commons is not regarded as much of a political force. It holds 14 seats, ten less than the CCF group on the opposition side of the green-carpeted chamber. But outside the Commons the Alberta-born party has been attracting attention, so much so that western liberals attending the meetings of the National Liberal Federation at Ottawa recently, warned that the funny-money boys would bear watching. The Social Credit control the governments of two provinces and under the impetus of Premier W. A. C. Bennett's driving ambition, the movement is seeking new fields to conquer. Attempts by the Social Crediters to move into the other western provinces must be countered by vigorous organization, the western Liberals emphasized. Consequently the western provinces will find more federal ministers appearing in person as efforts are made to offset the eastward drive of Bennett's boys.

Young Liberal Association wanted a resolution approved that would call for the establishment of an independent regulatory tribunal to govern the operations of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and private radio stations.

The young Liberals envisage a body operating in the field of radio and TV much as the Board of Transport Commissioners oversees the operations of the Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Railway. But the federal government has long balked at such a proposal. In 1952 such a resolution before the Liberal council was denounced by Dr. McCann, the minister responsible to parliament for the CBC. It provoked a violent debate that year among the Liberal delegates.

This year Mr. Pickersgill was chairman of the resolutions committee. The resolution—after some surgery—merely advocated an independent commission to examine the present situation in radio and TV and the advisability of establishing a regulatory tribunal.

CABINET CHANGE?

Latest rumor of a cabinet change involves the present postmaster general Alcide Cote. He has been seriously ill in hospital for several weeks and his health is now reported to be such that he may be forced to resign his post in the cabinet. The vacancy would be filled, it is suggested, by Mr. Rene Beaudoin leaving the Speaker's chair in the Commons to take a seat in the cabinet.

Mr. Beaudoin was chosen Speaker in November, 1953. He has applied himself to the job with great industry and today has a good grasp of the rules. He is highly regarded for his fairness and impartiality in handling the difficult job of presiding over the Commons. The Government would have to find another French-Canadian member to take the post if Mr. Beaudoin was called to the cabinet.

ROOM SIXTEEN

Room Sixteen is the members' lounge off the Commons chamber. Here members from all parties intermingle and relax. There is a radio set at one end of the large lounge and a television set at the other end. During the recent Stanley Cup playoffs a group of about 40 MPs was watching the TV English broadcast of the Toronto-Detroit game. At the other end of the room a group of French-speaking MPs was listening to the radio broadcast in French of the Montreal-Boston game. As the games progressed the groups of MPs became larger and the radio and TV sets were turned up louder and louder. Finally the English commentary and French play description became so loud that there was bedlam and neither group could hear either game.

BAD BOY

Ross Thatcher, the Peck's Bad Boy of the CCF group, can't seem to stay out of trouble with his colleagues in the Commons. This session has seen him split with party policy on several occasions. Latest example occurred when he spoke out against the continuation of the feed grain subsidy. His former room-mate Hazen Argue made an impassioned plea against a reduction in the feed grain subsidy, and E. G. McCullough, another Saskatchewan CCF'er, joined Mr. Argue in scolding Mr. Thatcher for not supporting the subsidies on the grounds that they were beneficial to farmers.

Mr. Thatcher has been in hot water so many times with his fellow CCFers that his complexion has a perpetually rosy hue. When he came back to Ottawa for this session he found that the CCF had arranged that he occupy an office all to himself. Mr. Thatcher does not know just how to take the gesture.

OPERATION ALERT

One of the best organized civil defense groups in the country operates within the federal civil service at Ottawa. It will probably be tested in June. The occasion will be "Operation Alert," involving dummy atomic bomb raids on some 50 North American centres. Officials are considering attempting a full-scale evacuation of 30,000 Ottawa civil servants from the capital area. If plans are carried out it would be the most ambitious test conducted in Canada. A similar test is planned for Washington involving the evacuation of U.S. public servants, including President Eisenhower, to secret relocation centres.

In Memoriam

OFTEN, bits of them and their philosophy have crept into these columns. Today, I'd like to write about them straight. For they died about this time of year in 1953.

For 17 years they were our close neighbors and our even closer friends.

I met them first when I was still more or less a bride — young and spoiled and very helpless in the domestic line.

They watched us settle into the home we grew to know so well.

They were there to wave good luck when I drove off to Victoria to await the arrival of my first baby.

Always, through the years, they were there when we needed help or comfort or advice.

They brought us fresh, glistening raspberries from their garden and, every year, enough gooseberries to make a special and gigantic pie.

We took them milk from the family cow, and papers sometimes, and silly little stories about the children's escapades when they were young.

They saw us in the good times and the bad times that come to all young couples with growing children. They helped us through the measles. They watched with tenderness and interest the great adventure of children starting off to school. They knew about the First Bike, the Paper Route, and the school report that was really awfully bad.

They shared their joys with us. Mostly, they were very little joys — a robin nesting in a tree, a little shrub that was doing well, a letter from a friend, a flower bed where the color schemes had turned out right, a winter feeding table for birds on the sloping roof outside the window by the kitchen sink.

They always went to special friends of their own generation for Christmas dinner, but for years they came to us on Christmas Eve to see the lights on the tree, to talk a little, to look at Christmas cards, and help fill children's stockings.

Ruth

It was a quiet and gentle friendship that they were quiet and gentle people though Tom, in his earlier days, had been a fearless champion of what he thought was right.

Through the medium of his editorials and his paper, he fought for what he felt was true and good. It wasn't always good for the paper's business. But, having been born in Lancashire and raised in the tradition of that great paper the Manchester Guardian, he never let monetary gain interfere with his belief in liberal principles.

When he died suddenly, we, who seldom go to funerals, drove up-island to go to his. The church was full, not of important people or of strangers, but of really truly friends.

Instead of the usual talk, the minister read the Fifteenth Psalm.

"Lord, who shall dwell in thy tabernacle: or who shall rest upon thy holy hill?"

"Even he that leadeth an uncorrupt life: and doeth the thing which is right, and speaketh the truth from his heart."

"He that hath used no deceit in his tongue, nor done evil to his neighbour: and hath not slandered his neighbor."

"He that setteth not by himself, but is lowly in his own eyes: and maketh much of them that fear the Lord."

"He that sweareth unto his neighbor and disappointeth him not: though it were to his own hindrance."

"He that hath not given his money upon usury: nor taken reward against the innocent."

"Whoso doeth these things shall never fail."

I shall never forget Mary at the funeral. She looked so little and frail and hunched and grey-like a wounded, huddled bird. She died a few weeks later, slipping away in mind and body. At 70 the joyous spirit was broken and lost without the steady comfort of her Tom.

These, then, were Thomas and Mary Collinge of Ladysmith.

I sometimes think I shall not see their like again.

Ruth will be on holiday until April 21.

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

YOUR HEALTH

Hereditry of Nervous Trouble

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine Mayo Foundation.

THE OTHER DAY a young man, well indoctrinated in modern psychiatry, started to take me to task for having said out loud that psychoses and neuroses are usually based on an inherited predisposition. He questioned both my knowledge and my right to say such a thing. I said, "Wait a minute: I want to show you something..." and I pulled from my briefcase one of the many records I happened at the moment to be abstracting for use some day in a book. This was the medical story of a shy, gentle old bachelor whom I have taken care of medically for some 25 years.

Alvarez

He has always been well behaved, and usually able to work, but he has often been depressed, terribly unhappy and fearful of losing his mind. He has always been too shy and reserved to go out with a woman; and any meeting of people has been to him an ordeal. Because of this, some years ago he gave up and retired to a lonely shack in the woods.

When I first asked him about his relatives he said they were all right, but gradually, as I won his friendship, his reserve melted, and he told me the following story. He said his father had always been a queer person; a miser, who eventually went insane. My patient did not know anything of his father's relatives because they were left behind in Europe. His mother was a shy, touch-me-not person who could never show any affection, and who would let anyone except members of her family come into her house.

DISCOURAGING BACKGROUND

One of her sisters and one of her brothers were insane, and one of her nieces was moody and at times depressed. One of my patient's brothers early became a vagrant, and dropped out of sight. Another brother "cracked up nervously" and died early. His daughter was queer. Another of my patient's brothers was mentally deranged. One of my patient's nephews was a queer, solitary fellow who never married, but lived alone in a mountain shack where he would not have to meet people.

In this case a point worth emphasizing is that my patient, who inherited a tendency to mental trouble from both his father and his mother (which is bad), and who had suffered from this inheritance all his life, at 73, when I last saw him, was still a good, sensible man who had earned his living. To do this he had had to choose a humble job which he could carry out in a back room where he would meet no one but his boss. He had not married, partly because he was too shy; partly because he knew he would make a very poor husband, and partly because he did not want to have children who might inherit the curse that had wrecked life for him and most of his near relatives.

Some people may have thought he didn't amount to much, but to me, who for years had watched his struggle for sanity, he was somewhat of a hero; and I was proud when eventually he accepted me as a friend with whom he could always talk freely and without his usual reserve.

I get many letters from persons who feel a bit outraged because I have spoken of the tremendous influence of heredity of much mental disease. I am glad that some of these persons are fair enough to admit that I am correct. As some have written, "God knows my family tree alone would prove the accuracy of all that you say," but they protest my right to talk about the subject, or my wisdom or kindness in doing this. Some say, "What right have you to hurt and discourage and anger those of us who have insanity or epilepsy or feeble-mindedness running through our family? Why do you delight in torturing us?"

MUST BE TOUGH-MINDED

Actually, no one who knows me would ever think of accusing me of willingly hurting a fellow human being. I have come to dread mentioning mental disease in this column because always this brings me a pile of angry or sad letters. Why do otherwise sensible people attack me so violently for just mentioning certain diseases of the brain? Obviously, because they have not yet learned that great lesson in life — being a bit tough-minded; to be able to hear anything or read anything that one dislikes without getting angry about it, and trying to have the speaker silenced.

SYNOPSIS

Sunday night's coastal disturbance moved eastward through the province overnight, gradually losing strength over the inland mountains, but bringing with it cool and quite moist Pacific air. As a result, considerable cloudiness will linger in most regions and scattered showers are expected, particularly along mountain slopes.

The picture will be much the same Tuesday over the interior and northern coast but some slight gains in temperature are expected.

The southern coast is threatened by another approaching Pacific storm that should bring rain by early Tuesday.

'PERSONAL PUBLICIST' PAVES CHETWYND WAY

Trade and Industry Minister Ralph Chetwynd has left for his first visit home to England in 31 years, and he will have a personal publicist with him while there.

Public relations man, J. G. Allison, Vancouver, preceded the minister to the United Kingdom to pave the way for his homecoming.

Mr. Chetwynd said Mr. Allison is being paid as a "personal publicist" and has not been hired by the government.

In a press release, Mr. Allison said he was going to England to carry out a publicity mission for B.C. He will assist the minister in supplying data on B.C. economic conditions, and set-up a library to distribute films on the province.

Mr. Chetwynd arrives in the U.K. April 12 and leaves for Vancouver April 23.

Milk Price Control Will Return

VANCOUVER (CP) — E. C. Carr, chairman of the B.C. Milk Board, said here Saturday the provincial government is drafting new regulations which will restore the controlled price of milk at the producer level.

Mr. Carr said the regulations would give the board power to enforce a price of $5.03 for 100 pounds of 3.5-per-cent butterfat milk. There are no enforcement provisions at present.

The action follows the interim report of Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne, a one-man royal commission on the dairy industry. Hearings began last October.

Mr. Carr said the milk board's enforcement powers, which would probably be granted within a week or 10 days, are being drafted under amendments to the Public Utilities Act.

Evidence before the Clyne Commission showed only one distributor was paying the full $5.03, Mr. Carr said. Other distributors were paying as low as $4.63 for 100 pounds of milk from farmers.

CANTERBURY, Eng. (AP) — Dr. Hewlett Johnson, often called the Red Dean, Sunday took the mayor of Stalingrad on a personally escorted tour of Canterbury Cathedral.

The mayor headed a Soviet delegation which came to Britain as guests of the city of Coventry. They were invited here by the British Soviet Friendship Society, of which Dr. Johnson is president.

Peasants Get Land

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi Sunday distributed 4,000 acres of crown land to 270 peasants in the Gorgan district of central Iran. The colorfully dressed peasants kissed the Shah's hand as they received deeds from their monarch, who now has distributed nearly 200,000 acres of crown lands among 8,050 peasants.

Dairy Workers Say Milk Good Bargain

Union in Drive To Aid Industry

A quart of beer or carbonated beverage costs anywhere from six to 18 cents more than an equal amount of milk, delivered to the home, making the dairy product one of the few bargains in Canada, according to Local 464 Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees' Union.

The local has opened a drive in an effort to gain more working benefits and to assist the milk industry generally.

Milk, says the union, has increased in price only 72 per cent since 1939 and in the same period, up to September, 1950, food prices climbed 109 per cent. Figures were obtained from the Association of Milk Producers.

The middle worker, it is claimed, has not been given due consideration in the royal commission report on the milk industry, although producers should be given their guaranteed price and the consumer should get cheaper milk.

Milk drivers receive no paid statutory holidays, work no established scale of hours and get no overtime pay, and dairy employees receive only from $1.12 to $1.29 an hour.

Criminal 'Popular' ---Now on Both Lists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today added to its list of 19 most wanted fugitives the name of Daniel William O'Connor, already listed by the RCMP as one of their most wanted men.

The FBI said O'Connor, a native of Detroit and now only 26 years old, has been engaging in the fraudulent cheque racket since a 1946 desertion from the United States Army.

Police at Windsor, Ont., caught him breaking into a hotel there in 1948, and he was given a two-year sentence.

The FBI said O'Connor changed his name to Jack O'Brien and returned to the U.S., leaving a trail of bad cheques and fraudulent money orders across Montana and North Dakota.

While driving through British Columbia with his wife and two small children, he was apprehended by an RCMP officer in connection with an irregular bank money order. He drew a pistol, fired on the officer and then beat him.

As a result, O'Connor is sought in Canada for attempted murder.

LEAN THE WAY YOU WANT TO GO

'Flying Manhole Cover' New U.S. Research Tool

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—The test pilot who first took off in a radical new wingless "flying platform" says anyone who can walk can fly it.

"You just lean the way you want to go," said test pilot Phil Johnston of the "research tool" developed by Hiller Helicopters of Palo Alto for the United States office of naval research. "I'd let my kids fly it. It's no trick at all."

Johnston's first flight was Jan. 15 in the weird new machine which looks like a flying manhole cover with guard rails. It is a literal flying saucer.

ESTABLISHES PRINCIPLE

Hiller's development to date "definitely has established the feasibility of radically simplified flight," the naval research officer said.

The "flying platform" works by a downward-thrusting air stream generated by two counter-rotating propellers. They produce balancing force, like a gyroscope.

Two ducted fans, powered by two small engines producing together less than 100 horsepower, suck in air through holes in top of the platform. The fans thrust air out of the bottom of the platform with great force.

How it takes off is as simple as that.

Ascent is controlled by throttle. You steer by leaning the way you want to go.

NO GLIDING POWERS

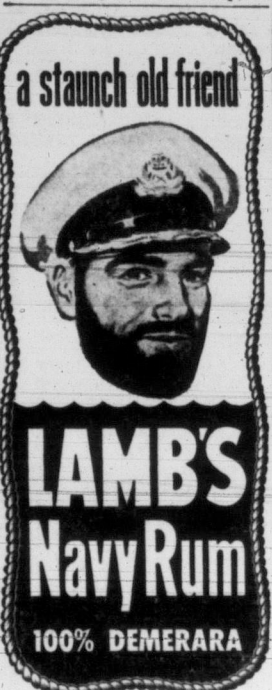

What happens if the engines quit, however, is an obvious problem.

Without the lifting air thrust, it would drop like a brick.

Test flights so far have been little more than eight feet off the ground. The navy says further research and development "will be necessary before these principles can be applied to the production of military aircraft."

Missing Girl's Body Found In Toronto

Coroner Believes Slaying 'Revenge'

TORONTO (CP)—A trail turned cold by time confronted police today as they hunted the stranger who knotted eight-year-old Judy Carter's woollen scarf around her neck until she was dead and dumped her body into a river.

Six weeks elapsed between the time the Toronto schoolgirl disappeared and the discovery of her body Saturday by two boys out for a day of fishing.

The find confirmed in part what detectives had feared all along: That Judy had been abducted from a street near her home and that death came soon after the abduction.

But an autopsy showed the girl had not been sexually assaulted, causing police to make a sweeping change in their theory that she was the victim of a sex pervert.

Dr. Smirle Lawson, supervising coroner for Ontario, said he was almost positive Judy was murdered by someone who knew her.

"The only motive for the crime I can think of is revenge against her or her family," he said.

Police said today a thrill killer may have murdered the little girl.

FACE DOWN IN MUD

The body was found on the bank of a lonely stretch of the Rouge River in nearby Markham township, lying face down in the mud. Her plaid dress, fur-trimmed coat and hat had not been disturbed.

Only her shoes were missing and they were located nearby. Ironically they were found three weeks ago by a farmer's hired man. He noticed them by a bridge and placed them on a bridge rail so that anyone looking for them could find them more easily. Since then they had fallen.

Judy disappeared on her way home after reading comics with two playmates. She had gone to their home after her Grade 2 class was dismissed for the day.

A $1,500 reward—to be paid by the city, a business firm and a veterans' group—was offered for information about her whereabouts.

MOTHER'S FEARS TRUE

William McLeod, Judy's stepfather, said Sunday the family always felt there was some hope.

"We hoped somebody picked her up and was good to her," he said. "Joan (Mrs. McLeod) was right from the start. She said at 11 o'clock the first night that Judy would never walk through that door alive."

Judy was Mrs. McLeod's daughter by a previous marriage.

UP's Smith Predicts Ike Will Retire

WASHINGTON (UP)—Merrill Smith, United Press White House reporter, expresses the belief in a book published today that President Eisenhower will not seek re-election in 1956 if he is free then to follow the inclinations he has now.

Smith gives his reasons for this belief, and at the same time lists factors which could lead to a second term race, in a volume of close-up observations about Mr. Eisenhower's transition from five-star general to civilian head of government.

The book is "Meet Mister Eisenhower" (Harper; $3.50). It gives behind-the-scenes glimpses of the president (and reporters) at work and at play. It includes an authoritative account of how Mr. Eisenhower feels at mid-term about his job, his achievements and the future course of the nation.

Smith, White House reporter since 1941, believes that Mr. Eisenhower doesn't want to run for a second term. Among the reasons he cites: The president's age (he would be 66 at start of a second term), his "distaste" for politics, a yearning to retire to his Gettysburg farm, and Mrs. Eisenhower's health.

"She (Mrs. Eisenhower) is not a robust woman and she finds the hours and the work, particularly during the social season, definitely fatiguing," Smith writes.

Mr. Eisenhower, however, might seek re-election "if he were convinced, whether by his own reasoning or the pleas of others, that his continued presence at the American helm would be essential to preserving the peace or winning a war."

But "barring tensions, pressures and dangers which cannot be foreseen or measured at the present," Smith concludes, "my guess is that he will run again—right straight for Gettysburg."

(Mr. Eisenhower has indicated that he doesn't intend to tell anyone his intentions until next spring. Most Republican politicians have expressed confidence they will be able to persuade him to run again.)

AA—Great Class BB—Worthwhile C—To Put in Time

A—Don't Miss B—For a Rainy Afternoon C—To Put in Time

(A) "20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA" (Royal):—From almost the first moment it becomes obvious why Walt Disney's adaptation of the Jules Verne science-fiction classic, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," was the recipient of three Academy Awards, viz., special effects, art direction for a colored film, and color set decorations.

In each of these departments this CinemaScope, Technicolor adventure yarn is of the first magnitude.

Unfortunately the story does not quite come up to the man-made technical equipment, in spite of it being carried in the capable hands of stars like James Mason, Kirk Douglas, Paul Lukas and Peter Lorre.

THE PLOT, IN BRIEF:

Along about 1868 Pacific mariners are frantic in fear that a great sea monster is gobbling up their ships and men. As the stories concerning sudden death and disaster on the high seas spread shipping firms find it more and more difficult to secure crews for their ships.

On this scene come scientists Paul Lukas and Peter Lorre. They are given passage aboard a U.S. warship. So is lusty, brawling harpooner Kirk Douglas. All goes well until towards the end of the voyage when a nearby ship is attacked by the "monster" and the warship rushes to the rescue of the survivors. There are none, however, but there comes along the sea, at maddening speed, two bulging yellow eyes and a boiling wake and before anything can be done about it the warship is sunk too.

BY CHANCE, LUKAS, LORRE AND DOUGLAS find the "monster" and, of course, discover it to be a fantastic submarine, captained by James Mason, who immediately makes them his prisoners. They also learn that Mason has decided to wreck their remake of the world.

It is difficult at times to swallow all the hokus-pokus about newer and better worlds. But, in the end, this really doesn't matter as one wonders instead about the magic that is Disney's.

As usual his color cameramen do an excellent job, particularly in their undersea shots and in the interiors of the dream-world sub. The skill reaches a climax in a man-made giant squid that would devour the sub and the entire crew. Surely nothing mechanical could ever appear more life-like.

And it is for all these things that we recommend Disney's latest triumph so highly.

'BEVANITES' CRITICAL

Fireworks Expected At CCF Convention

A battle between British Columbia "Bevanites" and the right wing within the CCF is expected to flare at the provincial convention in Vancouver, April 15 to 17, party sources indicated today.

Likely to be a convention guest is Rt. Hon. Clement Atlee, who has just emerged from his biggest battle yet with fiery Aneurin Bevan and his followers in the British Labor Party. He is scheduled to speak in Vancouver, April 16 and in Victoria on the 18th.

The "Bevanite" issue within the provincial CCF is expected to be brought about by resolutions criticizing the provincial executive's order of a "trial" of 23 officers and members of the North Vancouver CCF Club last January.

Suspension and re-instatement followed. It arose over the club's sponsoring a public address by Rod Young, former CCF MP who resigned from the party last year when threatened with expulsion.

Pre-convention skirmishing on the issue has been reflected in letter columns of the CCF News, the party's B.C. organ.

One of the largest conventions in recent years is expected with more than 200 delegates. A total of 205 resolutions from both CCF clubs and the provincial executive will be discussed at the three-day convention.

Gordie Well-Known Now In Times Island Tourney

Duncan Star Upsets Andrews; Court Wins; So Does Lineham

By BILL WALKER

A fellow who has received little more than passing mention in the past few years, today suddenly looms as the big hurdle in the Times Vancouver Island Match Play Open Golf Championship.

Gordie Whan of Duncan moved ominously into the lime-light Sunday as he continued the giant-killing role that has marked the tournament to date, and a pattern that was partly true again at Gorge Vale in the second round.

Whan, a serious golfer for only the past five years after 15 years away from the game, turned in a sparkling upset as he eliminated favored George Andrews of Colwood, 3 and 1, as surprises were again the order of the day.

By his victory Whan, of the Cowichan Golf and Country Club, qualified to meet professional Bill Court of Colwood next Sunday at Uplands in the quarter-final round.

Court moved by his rival professional Joe Pryke of Gorge Vale, 1 up, in a tense match that saw Court take the lead at the ninth, go two up at the 10th and then hold off Pryke's determined bid on the back nine.

Court described his round, an approximate 77, as "one of the finest I have ever played."

Hugh Morrison of Victoria Club was engaged in a similar tight duel with former professional Freddy Clunk before he emerged victorious on the 19th in the only extra-hole match of the round, while Laurie Kerr took the measure of Colwood clubmate Vic Painter, 2 and 1.

Morrison meets Kerr next Sunday.

A STARTLING UPSET and an amazing comeback marked play in the Times Island golf championships at Gorge Vale Sunday when Gordie Whan, right, of Duncan, defeated George Andrews of Colwood, 3 and 1 after being four down at the end of the first four holes. (Times Photo by Halkett.)

So Near and Yet So Far

Colwood professional Bill Court barely missed this putt for a par four on the 18th hole at Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday. But as it turned out Court didn't need it as his opponent in the Times Island Match Play Open Championship, Joe Pryke of Gorge Vale, also missed, Court winning the match 1 up. The studious fellow under the umbrella at left is PPGA champ, Bob Fleming, who was eliminated by Court a week ago. Tournament moves to Uplands next Sunday. (Times Photo by Halkett.)

Wings Again Lead Habs; Howe Sets Point Record

SUNDAY
Detroit 5, Montreal 1
(Detroit Leads Best-of-Seven Final, 3-2)

SATURDAY
Montreal 5, Detroit 3

DETROIT (CP)—Gordie Howe, who can break up a hockey game while you're looking for him, slammed in three goals Sunday night and was the dominating figure in Detroit Red Wings' 5-1 spanking of Montreal Canadiens.

The hustling Red Wings, snapping back into form with two Stanley Cup records, again moved in front in the best-of-seven cup final. Leading 3-2 in games, they can capture the trophy for the seventh time since Detroit entered the National Hockey League in 1926 by winning Tuesday in Montreal.

So far this final has been strictly a home-ice affair. Wings won twice at home, then lost two in Montreal. Canadiens were hopeful of carrying the speed and drive from their 5-3 win Saturday into the Sunday game.

For half the first period it began to look as though the Montrealers would succeed. Jean Beliveau put them into the lead, but Wings moved in front, gathered more power as they went along and by the time they scored their fifth goal early in the final period the Detroit win was assured.

CANADIENS FADED
Canadiens slowly faded under the steady Detroit pressure and were a fagged-out team at the end, with seldom-used substitutes taking over to give respite to the regulars.

Although the breaks favored the Wings when goals by Glen Skov and Howe put them in front in the first period, from there with more sustained power than Montreal could muster.

Vic Stasiuk's goal early in the final period was the convincer, if one was needed, that Canadiens were well beaten.

FIRST MISCONDUCT
By the time the first two periods were over, two playoff records were broken. Another of sorts—a personal one—was wiped out when Red Kelly of Wings, doing battle with Butch Bouchard, drew his first misconduct penalty in his eight seasons in the NHL.

Each batter was given a minor, major and misconduct penalty.

TWO RECORDS
Howe's three goals raised his total to eight in the semi-final against Toronto and the final so far against Montreal. With 11 assists for 19 points, he holds a playoff record. The previous high on points was made by Toe Blake of Montreal in the 1943-44 playoffs.

Until now, that same series had produced the highest total of points—48—scored by any single line. It was made by Blake, Elmer Lach and Maurice Richard. In Sunday night's game the Detroit line of Howe, Ted Lindsay and Earl Reibel raised their total to 49.

NHL Summary

ROYALS LEAD CATARACTS IN QHL FINAL SERIES

MONTREAL (BUP)—The Montreal Royals took a one-game lead in the best-of-seven finals of the Quebec Hockey League Sunday, defeating the Shawinigan Cataracts, 4-3, at the Forum.

Cataracts played without their star goalie Bobby Perreault, who was put to bed with a virus infection several hours before the game. Little Andre Binette, his substitute, allowed three goals in the first period before he settled down.

Eddie Mazur, Gary Blaine, Paul Masnick and Cec Hogstra scored for the Royals.

Connie Broden and Erwin Grosse with two scored for Cataracts.

WHL Officials Meet at Calgary

CALGARY (BUP)—Operational plans for next season and a new league schedule will be the main topics at a meeting of Western Hockey League officials opening here Tuesday.

The league will be expanded from a six-team loop to eight or 10 teams. Winnipeg and Regina were granted franchises. Teams from those cities will join Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Calgary, Edmonton and Saskatoon next season. There is also a possibility Seattle and Spokane will join the league.

MEXICALI, Mexico—Rayl Raton Matias, Mexico, stopped Memo Sanchez, Mexico, Santa Ana, Calif.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Head Jack 145, Augusta, drew with Ike Williams, 155, Philadelphia (10).

No Thrill Since Like This On Baseball's Opening Day

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—There will be the usual quota of stars today as the major league season gets under way but the eager athletes will have to go a long way to match the biggest opening day thrill of them all.

The year was 1940. The Cleveland Indians started the season with a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

And a young Iowa farm boy named Bobby Feller pitched the only opening day no-hitter in big league history.

It was a cold, grey day in forbidding Comiskey Park when the burly, 21-year-old with the blazing fast ball went to the hill, nor were the fans cheering for him.

They were, as a matter of fact, yelling for his scalp in the second inning when the White Sox loaded the bases with two out. But then he went to that bullet-like fast ball, rearing back and blowing it past Bob Kennedy three straight times to get out of the jam.

In the fourth inning, his Cleveland teammates got him in their run. With one away, Jeff

Arthur Sick; Charles Faces Escoc Tonight

EDMONTON (CP)—A boxer who hired out as a sparring partner finds himself facing Ezzard Charles in a main event here tonight.

Past-his-prime Vern Escoc is substituting for Johnny Arthur, 25-year-old South African heavyweight champion who was felled by a virus infection and taken to hospital last Sunday.

The seven-member boxing commission and handlers of both Arnold and Charles agreed at an emergency meeting to accept the 34-year-old Escoc as a stand-in. Arthur's doctor said the South African was "definitely too sick to fight."

"It won't make any difference to Charles. He'll fight anyone," said Charles' manager.

HOLLYWOOD—Kenny Teran, 135, San Jose, Calif., stopped Henry (Pappy) Gault, 118, Spartanburg, S.C. (2).

Johnny Had Easy Time

Johnny Merriman of Gorge Vale, whom Pryke once described as a "young golfer with outstanding promise," scored a 6 and 5 triumph over St. Spaven of Colwood as the form chart held true. But Harold Lineham, at 53 years, the oldest competitor remaining in the championship, surprised everyone with his relatively easy 3 and 2 victory over Frank Scroggs of Uplands to move into the quarter-finals against Merriman.

Bob Robertson of Gorge Vale also took an honored place in the upset category when he trimmed assistant professional Laurie Carroll of Victoria Club, 5 and 3, while Bill-McColl of Colwood, who meets Herb Morrison in the quarter-finals, had his work cut out for him before he eliminated Bob Woods of the Gorge, 1 up.

Thus the eight quarter-finalists are, in the top half of the draw, Court against Whan, and Morrison against Kerr, and in the bottom half, Merriman against Lineham and Robertson against McCall.

A Long Way in a Short Time

Whan's victory was the more notable in that he came from behind a four-hole deficit at the fourth hole to turn the trick against Andrews and, in doing so, was only two over par for the 17 holes.

Facing a seemingly insurmountable margin, Whan sliced Andrews' margin to one hole by the ninth, winning the sixth, seventh and eighth. He lost the 10th to go two down and then won five consecutive holes to have Andrews dormie at the 16th when Andrews won with a par three. Whan won the 17th to end it.

Court also was forced to come from behind in his match with Pryke. He lost the second to a par three to go one down, won the fifth to tie, and then won the 17th to end it.

Herbertson used the same method to dispose of Carroll. He was two up at the eighth and never in danger of defeat as he progressed.

McCull seemed headed for an easy victory in his match with Woods. Even par for the first eight holes, he then held a three-hole edge. He was still three up as they teed off on the 14th, and had Woods dormie on 17 where he lost to the final hole.

Following next Sunday's third round at Uplands, the tournament moves to Victoria Golf Club, April 24, when the semi-finals will be played over 36 holes.

The finals will be held at Colwood, May 1; also over 36 holes. A new champion is bound to be named this year as all former champions were eliminated in the opening round of match play at Colwood a week ago.

Wood Gains Quarters In Vancouver Tourney

VANCOUVER (BUP)—beat Doug Watkins 6 and 5, Don Elford upset John Russell 5 and 4.

In the next round Sunday afternoon, Mahwinney meets Nelson, Bajus meets Wood, Crawford opposes Heisler and Elford tackles Morgan.

Wood won the tournament in 1946 and was runner-up in 1951 and 1952.

Next Sunday he meets Point Grey amateur Doug Bajus in the quarter-finals. Bajus eliminated Fraserview's Tom Ross, 4 and 3, Sunday.

In other matches, Quilchena's Bill Mahwinney sidled Jack McKinnon of Capilano 2 and 1, Glenagles' Al Nelson stroked a 4 and 3 win over Joe Jenkins, Lyle Crawford trounced Keith Snelling 5 and 4, Roy Heisler

Shamrocks Sign Import Boxla Star

Victoria Shamrocks today announced the signing of eastern scoring star, Peewee Bradshaw of St. Catharines, a player of whom coach Red McMillan says, "he'll give us some of the fight we need this year."

The 20-year-old youngster played against the Rocks in the Mann Cup final in the east last September, being picked up by Canadian champion Peterborough Trailermen for the Mann Cup final as a substitute player.

Short and stocky, Bradshaw is an accomplished stick-handler and a good shot. He was in the top 10 in Ontario Lacrosse Association scoring last season.

Bradshaw first showed interest in joining the Rocks when he played against them in Peterborough last year. At the time, it was announced in The Times that he was a likely prospect for the 1955 Shamrock team.

Coach McMillan said today, "Peewee is a good boy and can't help but be an asset to our team. He's young and hard and has the same type of player as our Al Gill. He's a tough little scrapper and should shoot some fight into our team. We certainly will need more fight on the club this year."

McMillan said the club had ended negotiations for the present with Tony D'Amico, Bradshaw's running mate who also appeared with Peterborough in the Mann Cup final.

However, McMillan intimated the club would announce the signing of another Eastern player this week.

Signing of Bradshaw brings the number of Rock imports to three, goalie Gordy Johnston and forward Jack Blonda having previously returned their signed player cards to the Irish.

Shamrocks will hold a workout Tuesday night at Memorial Arena at 7.

Pesky Released

BALTIMORE (AP)—Johnny Pesky's major league baseball playing career appeared to be ended Sunday with his unconditional release by Baltimore Orioles.

Shores Lead Coast League

VANCOUVER (BUP)—North Shore United moved into sole possession of first place in the Pacific Coast Soccer League with a 3-3 draw against St. Andrews in the only league game on Saturday. North Shore now has a one-point lead over New Westminster Royals.

FIRST UNITED TAKES PROVINCIAL CAGE TITLE

Victoria First United won the pre-midget boys' provincial basketball championship Saturday afternoon at Chemainus by coming out on top in a 12-team playdown.

Coached by Harold Turner, the Victoria church team has won 17 games in a row and is undefeated this season.

In winning the title, United disposed of Parksville, 54-18; Alberni, 40-30, and Cumberland, 49-27. Mike Gallo was top scorer for the champions, with a three-game total of 40 points, including 16 in the final game. Bruce Mitchell scored 19 points in the second game for a total of 31.

Hornets Capture AHL Championship

BUFFALO (CP)—Pittsburgh Hornets won the American Hockey League's Calder Cup Sunday night by defeating Buffalo Bisons 4-2 to take the best-of-seven finals four games to two.

USLA's rugby team overcame a 8-3 half-time deficit Saturday to defeat the Canadian All-Stars from British Columbia, 17-8, in the first match of a three-game series.

The two squads will meet in the second and third games of the international series Friday and Saturday at El Centro.

Coach McMillan said today, "Peewee is a good boy and can't help but be an asset to our team. He's young and hard and has the same type of player as our Al Gill. He's a tough little scrapper and should shoot some fight into our team. We certainly will need more fight on the club this year."

Coast League Club Nips Esquimalt; Heaney's Score Exhibition Triumph

*Victoria City 4, Esquimalt 3

Victoria City of the Coast Soccer League advanced to the city final of the Province Cup competition Sunday by defeating Esquimalt, 4-3, in a semifinal game at Heywood Park.

Next Sunday, Heaneys, leaders of the Victoria and District Football Association first division will tangle with Victoria West, the winner taking the other final berth against City.

The Coast League club held a 2-0 lead at the half Sunday, were ahead 4-1 in the last 20 minutes of the game but weakened defensively as Esquimalt made it close with two goals late in the game.

Ken Hibbert, City's new centre forward who is becoming a dangerous scoring threat as he plays himself into shape after a slow start, got his club away to a quick start in the first half with two goals. Hibbert scored at 10 and 30 minutes, heading in almost identical goals on passing plays with Cedric Robb and Ab Travis, his outside line-mates.

Early in the second half, Robb steered in a shot by Travis to up City's margin to 3-0 but Esquimalt's Denny Shubrooke, stealing an errant City pass, scored to make it 3-1.

It was Robb again, scoring the fourth City goal, combining this time with Chummy Crabbe to take a share in all four goals.

City, showing a recent tendency to weaken in the home stretch, did it again in this game as Esquimalt struck for two more goals in an effort to take the decision.

Glen Underwood lobbed in a long shot from the City side of the centre line and City goalie Pete Winters, trying to play the ball on the bounce, allowed it to bounce over his head and into the net. Ken Barnes got the final goal, rushing in to net the ball when Winters juggled a shot.

HEANEYS WIN
Saturday's soccer action was confined to an intercity exhibition game, Heaneys rebounding from an early deficit to beat Vancouver Labor Crafts of the

EAGLES GAIN B.C. FINAL

Victoria Eagles advanced into the final of the provincial "tournament of champions" scheduled for Vancouver April 30 by blanking North Shore, 3-0, at Beacon Hill Park Saturday afternoon.

Eagles, fourth division Vancouver Island champions, will now meet the winner of the semi-final between Powell River and a Vancouver eleven for the B.C. crown.

Centre-forward Darryl McIntyre scored all three goals as the Eagles dominated play completely. Score at half-time was 2-0.

Vancouver and District League, 3-1 at Athletic Park.

Heaneys fell behind 1-0 at the 12-minute mark when Frank Leach scored on a ground shot. There was no further scoring in the first half and the Vancouver club succeeded in holding their advantage well into the second half until Heaneys' lasting power broke the game wide open.

Nelson Crisp tied it for Heaneys with a clever corner shot that curved into the net, catching the Vancouver goalie and his backs flat-footed.

Veteran Arnie Ferguson, one of Heaneys' most consistent scorers, moved up to the centre forward position with 10 minutes left in the game and set up the winning goal. Ferguson took a pass from Frank Grealey, flicked it across the goalmouth and Mel Sillars rammed it past the Vancouver goalie.

Ferguson clinched the decision with four minutes left, driving a bullet shot in off the crossbar to climax the uphill rally.

Eilers Near Sixth Dominion Cage Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Eilers took a two-game lead in the Canadian senior women's basketball final Saturday night, edging Saskatchewan Aces 50-44 in the second game of the best-of-five series. Saskatchewan lost the first game 50-36 Thursday.

Aces, with one game and two days' practice under their belts, were a better team Saturday, but lost the edge in play to the championship-seasoned Eilers.

The Vancouver club is seeking its sixth straight Dominion title. Third game goes tonight and a win by Eilers would give them the championship.

Shirley Topley and Pat Slater sparked Eilers' win, each scoring 10 points for the night as Arlene Raycroft of Aces, who amassed 11 points, eight of them on field goals. Pat Lawson, one of Saskatchewan's top players, scored 10.

Line-up follow:
Saskatoon—Williams, Hopper (2), Raycroft (11), Slowchuk (2), Mackay (4), Lawson (10), Fior (7), Donaldson, Campbell (6). Total 44.

Vancouver — Topley (10), Slater (8), Smith (10), Mitchell (2), Milner, N. McDermott (7), L. McDermott (3), Robinson (2), Walker (8), McDonald. Total 50.

Bays Edge Wanderers; Capture Cowichan Cup

James Bay Athletic Association defeated Oak Bay Wanderers, 8-5, at Macdonald Park Saturday afternoon to retain the Cowichan Cup, emblematic of Vancouver Island rugby supremacy.

JBAA were forced to come from behind for their victory in the hotly-contested match after Peter Dixon scored a try to give Wanderers an early lead. Stu Smith booted the convert to make it 5-0.

Garry Pynn narrowed the margin to 5-3 with a 40-yard penalty kick for JBAA and Harry Turner scored the winning points 11 minutes before intermission, crossing the Oak Bay line on a forward break. Pynn converted easily.

Neither club could score in the wide-open second half.

Cary Middlecoff Masters' Champ

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—Because he didn't want to play hero at a crucial time, lanky Cary Middlecoff headed into a golden year of golf today with the coveted Masters title and his 1955 earnings doubled in one great sweep to glory.

The praise of Bobby Jones himself, founder and chief patron of the Masters, rang in Middlecoff's ears for the best single round of golf ever shot in its 21 years and 19 players. He had conquered the two greatest competitors of the tournament, Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, who finished a sad two-three at a record seven and eight strokes distance behind the winner.

LEONARD SIXTH

Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., headed the Canadian contingent and picked up $812.50 for finishing in a two-way tie for sixth place with a total card of 202, including a 74 Sunday.

Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon fired 305 with three other players and Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., was one of five players with 308.

Happy, quickly-relaxed Middlecoff said that after he took a double bogey on the 10th hole of the last round and still was one under par through 12, it was no time to take any chances any more.

Yet, while the 31-year-old dentist from Memphis who led the series with 13 holes to go, now registered from Kianesha Lake, N.Y., took a cautious iron on his approach to 13, it was satisfied with a par 5, it was the same hole he gambled and got an eagle on Friday. That feat and a flurry of birdies, including four in a row, added up to only 65 and was the round Jones called the best in Masters' history.

Lloyd Mangrum once got a 64 here, but Jones pointed out that was due to higher grass, and longer playing on the fairways.

Middlecoff finished with a two-under-par, giving him a total of 279, which is as good as they've ever done in the Masters save when Hogan axed it down to 274 in 1953.

Eagles Take League Title; Trim Punjab

Eagles, first-half champions of the first division, Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association, picked up the second-half title Sunday when their scheduled game with Macs was defaulted by the latter team.

Eagles are also Island knockout champions, and only lack the city knockout cup to make a clean sweep.

In an exhibition game at Windsor Park, Eagles lent strength to their bid to move up to the second division of the Victoria and District League next season by whipping Punjab United of that league, 3-1.

Jim Pearson with two goals, and Bud Shipley scored for Eagles.

In previous exhibition games with second division teams, Eagles have defeated Tillamums, 3-2, and lost narrowly to Combines, 2-1.

Duncan Safety Group to Test Cars Saturday

Driver Training Part of Program

DUNCAN—Cowichan and District Traffic Safety Association will start operation of a car inspection station Saturday at Cowichan High School grounds with a session lasting from 1 to 4 p.m.

A charge will be made for the inspection, to be done by fully qualified mechanics. No charge will be made for re-checks of previously rejected cars, and safety inspection stickers will be issued for cars passing the test.

Inspections will be voluntary, according to Fred Vey, association president, and cars will not be ordered off the road if they fail to pass the test.

"It should be up to the driver to have any mechanical defects corrected for his own safety," he said.

The association's safety program also will include inspection of bicycles and equipping them with reflector tape, and a driver-training program for high school students.

U.S. Students Visit Salt Spring Island

GANGES—International goodwill was strengthened here on the Easter week-end by the visit of a group of Orcas Island High School students to high school students here.

The United States students, representing the graduating class of their school, left Deer Harbor on Cross Island aboard the yacht Idle Hour, skippered by Chris Wilkins.

They were accompanied by Mervin Horner, school principal, and Mrs. Horner, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pearson.

Plans for an out-door picnic were canceled because of poor weather, but the youngsters were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Foubister, Ganges. Mr. Foubister is principal of Salt Spring Island High School.

Arrangements are now being made with E. J. Avery of Ganges, captain of the yacht Elspeth, to take a party of students from Salt Spring Island High School to high school "prom" on Orcas Island later this month.

Orcas Island, one of the largest of the San Juan group, lies 30 miles southeast of here.

Tournament Ends

QUALICUM BEACH—Finals in the Qualicum Badminton Club's annual tournament brought close and exciting play for the club's five trophies.

Henry and Ellen Mant again captured the Qualicum District Farmers' Institute shield for mixed doubles handicap, defeating Dave Sawyer and Mrs. Anne Parker. Henry Mant and Al James won the Parker Bros. trophy for men's doubles by defeating Will and Bert Parker.

Qualicum Construction Co. trophy for ladies' doubles went to Mrs. Phyllis McCrimmon and Mrs. Jeanette Forrester, who won from Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Ellen Mant. J. C. Reid trophy, men's singles, was won by Henry Mant over Bob Muir, and the Ron Goad trophy for ladies' singles, was captured by Mrs. Forrester, who defeated Mrs. Avis Mitchell.

City Council Files Park Board Petition

DUNCAN—City council here has received and filed a petition bearing 250 names that asked for a referendum regarding establishment of a joint parks board with North Cowichan. Mayor J. C. Wragg said Reeve C. A. P. Murison of the municipality had said North Cowichan did not want a joint board at this time.

Chemainus Water Available For Distribution in Saltair

CHEMAINUS—Saltair Water Improvement District could obtain water from the new Chemainus waterworks system if it decided to adopt a supply system drawing from Holyoak Lake and Miller Creek, source of supply for Chemainus, Reeve C. A. P. Murison said this week.

The reeve was summing up North Cowichan municipality's stand on the matter after a delegation from Saltair had met with the council to discuss the source of supply.

Under the original plan for the Chemainus waterworks system, prepared by Vancouver engineer Fred Stewart, the level of Holyoak Lake was to have been raised 15 feet, providing enough storage to supply Chemainus as well as Saltair.

The present scheme for Chemainus calls for raising the level seven and one-half feet.

The original plan also provided for a branch line taking off from the main supply near Henry Road, to serve the north portion of the municipality, before continuing to Saltair. This branch had also been cut off the new scheme, but could be re-introduced, the reeve said.

Reeve Murison warned, however, that the cost to Saltair would be approximately $150,000 plus the cost of distribution. Had Saltair decided to come in on the original plan, the cost would have been much less.

The council, he said, would be happy to discuss the "ways and means in greater detail."

Board Recommends School Bus Tender

QUALICUM BEACH—Tender of the Village Garage, Qualicum Beach, for the supply of a 55-passenger GMC school bus, at a cost of $6,922.54, was recommended to the department of education for acceptance at the meeting of the School Board of District 69.

Five tenders were received. Next lowest figure, just $12 higher, was from Meyers-Holland in Nanaimo.

A government appraiser is in the district to interview owners of property affected by the proposed new highway which will run from St. Evar on the Island Highway through the village of Qualicum Beach. A strip of approximately 1.37 acres from the north edge of the high school property here will be released for the purpose.

Premier Refreshed After Hawaiian Holiday

Back in Victoria today after a three-week holiday following the spring session of the Legislature, B.C.'s Premier W. A. C. Bennett is refreshed, rested and sun-tanned. He has memories of a complete rest in the Hawaiian Islands, and among his holiday souvenirs is above photo. Notably independent premier shows he can paddle his own canoe, literally. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were accompanied on their vacation by Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Skillings, who also returned to the city today. Mrs. Skillings said the holiday was wonderful—it couldn't have been better." (CP Airline Photos.)

Jobless Picture 'Flexible', Says Minister

Pickersgill Says Work Available

Despite Canada's heavy unemployment—figures, if the average worker is willing to take any type of employment "right now" it is not hard to get established, Immigration Minister John Pickersgill said here today.

He was commenting, in an interview, on criticism of the federal government's immigration policy which has brought in immigrants while sections of Canada's labor force are without work.

While there has been a good deal of unemployment, there is "still flexibility" in the situation, and many of those without work do not remain that way long, he said.

There is little "direct relationship" between the employment level and immigration, as the immigration department does not encourage immigration in occupations now at a high employment level throughout the country.

TRY FOR BALANCE

"We try and balance it on this basis," said Mr. Pickersgill. By way of illustration, he said that of the 154,000 immigrants last year, less than 400 men, women and children received federal aid.

He said demands for farm labor now looming were not expected to be met.

During the recent long debate in the House of Commons on unemployment, "not one person suggested that immigration was the cause. I found this quite remarkable."

The government, he went on, took the wide view that first must come the population, then the industry, and this was emphasized by not bringing in immigrants who would be unemployed any length of time.

DISCOURAGED

The debate on unemployment in Canada, he said, was "discouraging" overseas. Holland, for example, had provided only one-half the immigrants of a year ago, following reports in the press there of the job situation in Canada.

Of immigrants who returned home full of criticism of Canada not being all sweetness and light, with streets of gold, the minister said this could be expected of the "unsuccessful."

"They always say the picture was painted brighter for them than it is."

This may be so in some instances, he said, but was certainly not deliberate.

INTEGRATION

On Indians, he said federal policy is to integrate them into the community as quickly as possible, and he advocated use of the same schools for both whites and natives.

The Indian problem in B.C., he said, is likely to be solved faster than elsewhere in Canada as coastal Indians are highly developed, and non-nomadic, contrary to settlements in other sections of the country.

On liquor for Indians, he maintained the sooner the same law applies to them as to whites the better, "if they want it that way."

Mr. Pickersgill and his wife arrived in Victoria early today, and are staying at the home of his father-in-law, John T. Beattie, 2660 Currie Road. They are accompanied by their four children.

Mr. Pickersgill will address the Oak Bay Liberal Association in Oak Bay High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

I am not angry—just terribly, terribly hurt. Someone has had the effrontery to challenge the accuracy of an historical anecdote which appeared in this space. The anecdote had to do with the naming of Sooke, by a Lancashireman who was a member of Captain Cook's crew.

One of the constituents writes: Dere Monte: Tha' might be o'reet as a Welshmon, but thi Lancashire reeks. Tha thinks aw tha' ast to do is saa "bah goom!" and foak a'll think tha's fra Wigan.

Now lad—here's thi tru story o' Sooke. Bob Mossop, a gradely lad fraw Blegburn were on't ship th' menshuns o'reet he were in't galler 'anging a leg o' pork.

Well, t' ship give a lurch an' Bob 'ung ontout leg o' pork but dropped his "S" 'ook o'er side of ship like and as 'e were gazing after it th' mate sez "Whot's up Bob" and Bob sighs there goes me "S" 'ook.

So t' mate rote in 'is report the passing of the S'ook, and that's wot they ca's it to this day.

Seaview Road. Yours, ALBERT.

I am sorry I brought the matter up, and am willing to admit it probably happened to two other Lancashiremen.

To change the subject as hurriedly as possible, did you hear the radio news item Sunday, referring to the atomic tests at the Nevada proving grounds?

The announcer said that, because it was Easter Sunday, an atom bomb would not be exploded.

Civilization thus pauses for a day in its mad race toward self destruction.

Personally, out of deference to Easter Sunday, I failed to beat my wife.

VICTORIA VIGNETTE: Friend of mine reports on a young man of 12 who towers close to six feet in the air.

He's a great movie-goer, and his mother got tired of shelling out at adult rates, as no box-office official would believe the lad's age.

Now he carries a pocket-size birth certificate and flashes it when he buys his ticket.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

George Grant, superintendent of physical education, and schoolteacher Jack Fouracre, left on the week-end for Winnipeg where they will attend the sixth annual evangelical social work conference at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

Mr. Grant and Mr. Fouracre recently were elected executive secretary and vice-president, respectively, of health education in the national group.

Mrs. V. Godfrey, 839 Bay Street, reported to police Sunday theft of a mantle radio and set of silverware from her suite. She said the articles were stolen Saturday afternoon.

Fern Ottoson, 27 Olympia Street, of the Rainbow Christian Fellowship, recently attended the sixth annual evangelical social work conference at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

Nearly 100 social workers, professors, laymen and students attended from all parts of the United States and Canada. Wheaton College next spring will again host the Christian Social Work Conference.

Victoria League for the Handicapped realized $175 from a novel rummage sale held in the Super Service building, Pandora, Saturday, president Fred Blakeney said.

Success of the sale, the novelty of which lay in the fact that salesmen were all wheelchair cases, has prompted the league to consider a second one in the fall, making both annual events.

Mending of broken homes, care of unmarried mothers and homeless children, which cost Victorians $160,000 last year, will be reported on at the annual meeting of Family and Children's Service at Victoria High School, Friday night at 8. Main speaker will be Times editor and internationally known author, Bruce Hutchison. The meeting is open to the public.

MLA's Mother, Mrs. A. Haggen, Dies in City

Private funeral service will be held Tuesday at Royal Oak chapel for 91-year-old Mrs. Annie Haggen, mother of Grand Forks CCF MLA Rupert Haggen. She died Saturday.

Born in Napier, New Zealand, she came to Canada in 1901. Her home here was at 2327 Beach Drive.

She is survived by three sons, Rupert of Grand Forks, Geoffrey of Leeds, England, and Alfred E. Victoria; one daughter, Mrs. Rosa Atkins, Victoria, and two brothers and one sister in New Zealand.

Rev. Canon George Biddle will officiate at the service. Cremation will follow.

Running Board Ride Injures Saanich Youth

Pedestrian Hit By Rolling Truck

A 13-year-old Saanich boy was injured painfully Sunday afternoon when he was crushed against a pole while riding on the running board of a car.

He is David Roy Wooten, 625 Brookleigh Road, who suffered a broken jaw, cut scalp and lost several teeth in the accident, which occurred on private property at 600 Brookleigh.

Royal Jubilee Hospital authorities describe the boy's condition as "satisfactory."

Saanich police said the youth was riding on the side of an old-model car driven by his 15-year-old brother, Robert.

LUCKY ESCAPE

In the city, an 18-year-old had a narrow escape from death of serious injury when struck by an overturning vehicle at Johnson and Vancouver Saturday afternoon.

Allen Wickes, 1117 Grant Street, received back injuries but refused hospital treatment. Police said an auto driven east on Johnson by Quincy McCann, 210 Government Street, collided with one proceeding south on Vancouver by James Henderson, 360 Moss.

Impact caused the Henderson vehicle to overturn, striking the pedestrian.

Mrs. Edith Perry, 52, 967 North Park, was admitted to Jubilee Hospital following treatment for shock, forehead and nose cuts.

She was a passenger in a car involved in an accident Saturday night at Bay and Douglas Streets.

Mrs. Edna Bull, 2872 Colquitz, was treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital following a two-car collision Sunday night at Government and Johnson.

Police identified drivers of the cars as Arthur Clifford Bull, 2872 Colquitz, and Gordon Wayne Nixon, HMCS Naden.

Saanich Favors Park Over Track

Saanich Council will support the Capital Regional Planning Board's recommendation that the city-owned Beaver-Elk Lake property be developed as a public park—and not a race track.

This was indicated today in a Times' survey which showed five of the seven-man municipal council agree with regional planner Brahm Wiesman's report.

In addition, the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society—representing southern island farmers—has thrown its weight behind the public park proposal.

Mr. Wiesman stated flatly the property has a greater potential value as a recreational sports area and tourist attraction, than as a race track and fair grounds.

He suggested the city find another site for the proposed track and fair grounds.

DISCUSSIONS SLATED

City council will discuss the report Thursday, and Saanich Council next Monday.

A poll of Saanich councillors revealed only Reeve Joseph Casey and Cllr. George Austin would not comment on the issue.

Cllr. Leslie Passmore, senior councillor, said he saw no reason why there should be opposition to the report.

"Both the city and Saanich town planning commissions have endorsed the recommendations," he pointed out.

Mr. Passmore said if the race track promoters wanted a plebiscite on the issue it would have to be held during the December elections.

Cllr. Ronald Grant and Eugene Diespecker held similar views.

NO PLEBISCITE

"There are not enough people interested in the track to warrant a plebiscite," said Mr. Diespecker.

"The people who want a track have personal interests in the project and are not thinking of the people of Greater Victoria."

Cllrs. S. W. Brock and Robert Fleming expressed themselves in favor of the report.

V. E. Virgin, director of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, said if the "city turns down the report it might as well throw town planning out the window."

Mr. Virgin said the establishment of a class A fair at Beaver Lake is not practical. The city, he continued, would have to spend $500,000 to meet the requirements for such an exhibition.

CAN'T DO IT

"In other provinces, like Manitoba," he stated, "they can only maintain one class A fair. I can't see Victoria maintaining an exhibition of this type."

He said when the Saanich fair is raised to a class B exhibition, it will be sufficient for the needs of South Vancouver Island.

"It is only five minutes' distance by car from Beaver Lake," he said.

On the other hand, Ald. Geoffrey Edgeiow has taken issue with the Beaver Lake Ratepayers' Association which chided him Saturday for supporting the track.

The association claimed that on a previous occasion Mr. Edgeiow opposed a race track in his own Portage Inlet region.

The alderman denied this, claiming he had strongly supported the project and worked on its behalf.

"The association has forgotten the importance of establishing a class A exhibition on South Vancouver Island," he said.

"The city has a duty to perform to its citizens and must consider if the land can be used for a fair."

Mr. Edgeiow said he did not see why the city should spend money to purchase land for a fair when it already owned property suitable for such a project.

Two Women Attacked By Dark-Haired Man

Police from two forces combed the Shelbourne-Haultain area Saturday night following attacks on two women by a "young man about 5 feet, 9 inches tall with dark hair."

Both occurred within the space of 25 minutes.

Search of the area by city and Saanich police failed to yield any trace of the assailant.

It was believed he was wearing a black jacket with white piping on one sleeve.

Both attacks were similar.

Mrs. Bernice Dockstead, 226 Superior, said she was walking near Aldridge Street at about 8:20 p.m. when she was attacked from the rear by a young man who grabbed her throat and put a hand over her mouth.

She said he ran toward Shelbourne and Hillside Avenue when she screamed.

Twenty-five minutes following the first report, a bus driver phoned police asking them to meet the Haultain bus as a woman on the bus had been attacked.

Miss Sophie Kobiec, 569 Toronto, said she was waiting for a bus on Haultain near Shakespeare when she was shaken in a similar manner.

The man fled when the bus approached.

Murder, Rape Cases Before Appeal Court

Spring session of the B.C. Court of Appeal will open at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the Bastion Street courthouse with two murder appeals, and five against convictions for rape heading the list of cases.

The court at its first sitting will set a date to hear the appeal of Lawrence "Corky" Vincent, convicted at Quesnel in 1953 of murdering Donna Lee Corbett, 12. He is scheduled to be hanged May 3.

CATHRO APPEAL

It will also set a date for hearing the appeal of Donald Keith Cathro, convicted recently by an Assize Court jury in Vancouver of the January murder of a 65-year-old Vancouver Chinese grocer Ah Wing.

Cathro was sentenced to be hanged June 21.

The rape cases to be heard by the court all originated from the mainland.

There are also appeals against convictions of theft and possession of narcotics.

The court will hear over 15 civil cases.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Since I came here about six years ago I have dropped one letter of my name, and on my certificate of Canadian citizenship is now my full name, and in parenthesis my name without this letter. To which place have I to go to ask to rectify this officially? F.A.

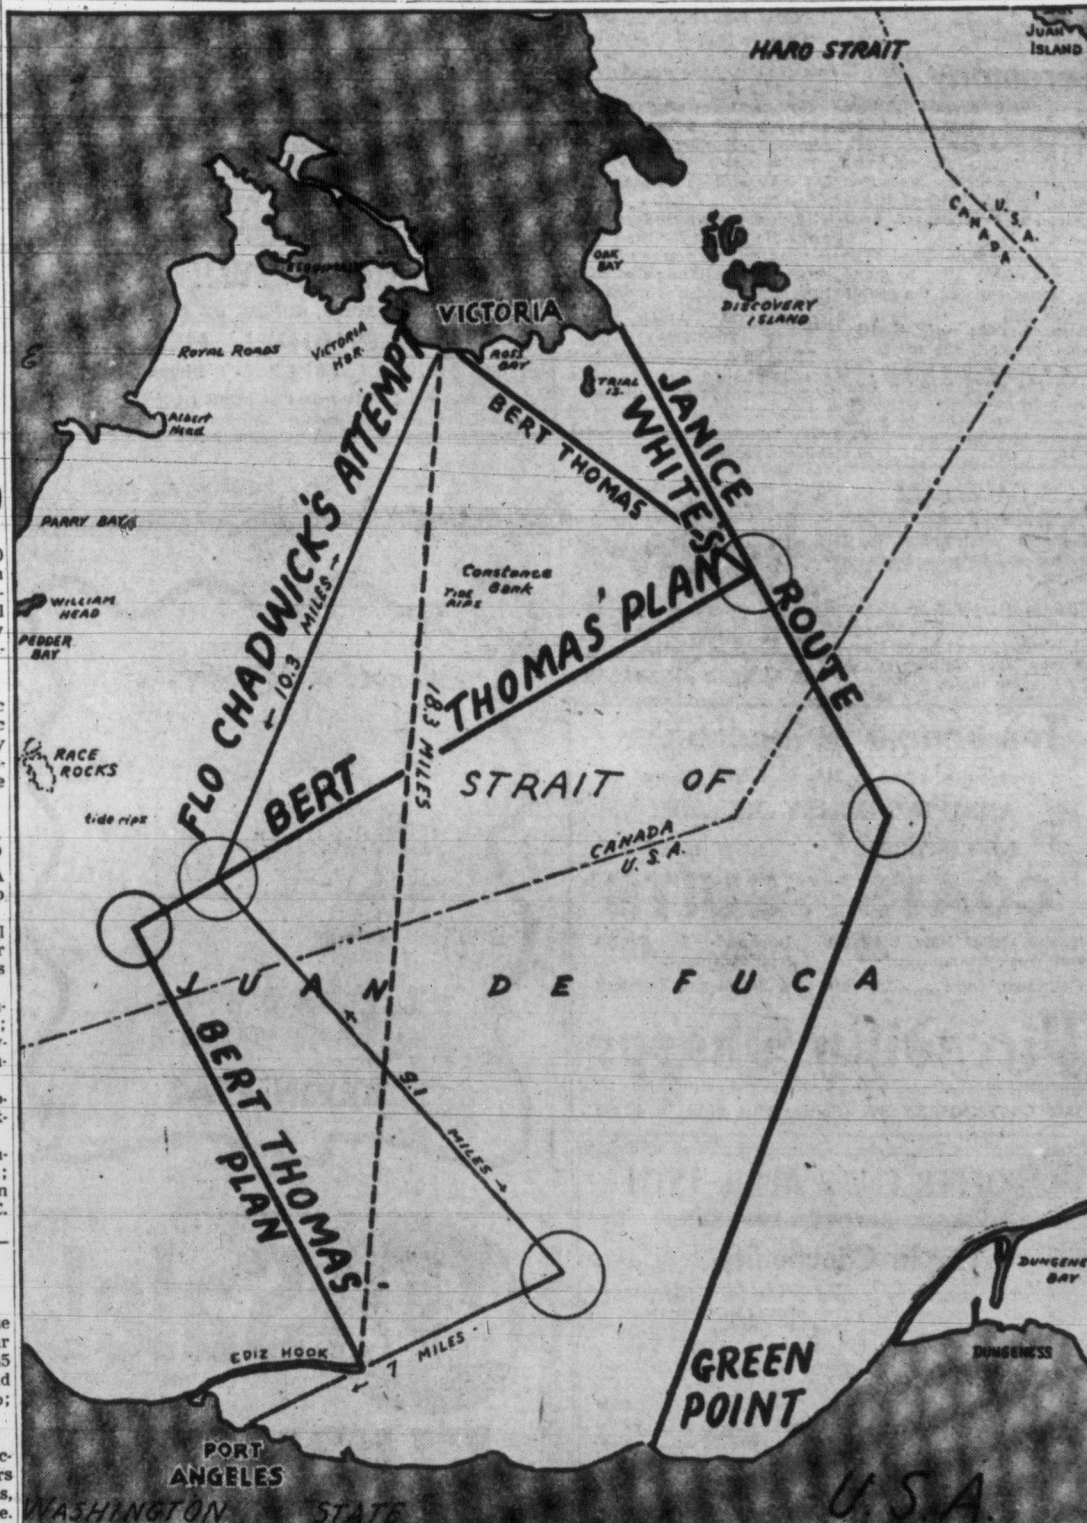

A.—If you feel your citizenship certificate leaves anything in doubt you may consult the B.C. Vital Statistics Branch.

Q.—When was the first Dollar Day staged in this city? F.G.M.

A.—Saturday, June 13, 1914. The Daily Times on May 30 that year announced the coming of the event thus: "A day not mentioned in any calendar is to be celebrated here June 13. It is called Dollar Day, after the sum of money at which every merchant will sell some valuable line of his stock that day."

Q.—I have a coin which is illustrated below. Will you kindly let me know whether it is of any value? R.C.

A. (On the obverse side are the words, "One cent, 1855," and on the reverse, "Fisheries and Agriculture," possibly designating a department of government. Local students of numismatics say they are not aware of a Canadian coin of the description given. A coin of such date would be a pre-Confederation piece.

No. 3 Route Mapped in Juan de Fuca Fight

Route chosen by Tacoman Bert Thomas for his Juan de Fuca attempt Wednesday night is shown in rough comparison to previous proposals for strait swim.

He has decided to start from Horseshoe Bay, the same spot Flo Chadwick used last August. To take advantage of tides, however, he will swim southeast for first 4 1/4 miles, then, as tide turns, will go southwest for about 7 1/4 miles. Finally on flood tide he will turn south-east again toward Port Angeles for a 10-mile leg.

Flo Chadwick headed directly for Port Angeles but tides would have swept her in a zig-zag course had she continued.

Proposed route for Janice White's swim that did not take place was completely different.

Toy Cuddle Dog Tinkles
Tune for Young Listeners

By PENNY SAVER

Are you all full and feasted after the holiday week-end? I guess this week many a household will be nibbling at baked ham done up in different ways. Well, let the holiday excitement calm itself, and back to everyday goings-on.

During my usual meander through town this a.m. I ran across several items that interested me. One of them was an adorable little pink dog . . . toy one, that is. It has a saucy little face, and a big bow around its neck. But that isn't its only claim to fame. Oh no! Wind up the little key attached, and the cuddly canine plays "How Much Is That Doggy In The Window." This toy is guaranteed to steal the heart of any little tad. You'll find that it will soon be the favorite. The cost is $7.95. It comes in powder blue, too.

You know, there's a very simple and inexpensive way of keeping little ones happy for a time. Buy them some balloons. Every girl or boy loves to blow up balloons. Even if they break them in the process, it's all part of the enjoyment. A package containing balloons in assorted colors and shapes costs 49 cents and there are 20 of them in it! That's just a little more than two cents each . . . what could be cheaper for you and more fun for them? For parties, children's or adult's, bright balloons always add a festive touch. Try putting some confetti inside some of them, it adds a novel and attractive effect.

For the tiny musical members of your family, set them off to an enjoyable and good start by buying them one of the miniature instruments on sale in town. For 19 cents, you can buy a trumpet or a saxophone in plastic . . . red, yellow and green. They actually make noise, and would make the admiring glances you'll receive from your friends.

Going to Nanaimo Convention

Victoria Man Married
In Vancouver Ceremony

In Ryerson United Church in Vancouver, Rev. Matthew W. Stevenson solemnized the wedding of Marilyn June Hill, daughter of Mr. John Lay, 215 Eastlake Avenue, Seattle, Wash., and the late Dr. Elmer James Hill, and Austin Thomas Ray Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Jones, 4035 Braefoot Road, Victoria.

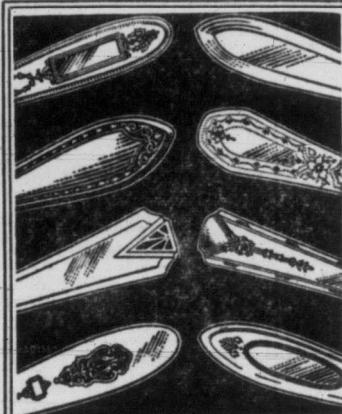

Standard baskets held flowers of pink and white, and candles lit the church. Miss Shirley Chaplain sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over ice blue satin, fashioned with lace bodice, short sleeves and bateau neckline. The full skirt had panels of lace that extended into a short train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion lace was held by a matching cap trimmed with tiny pearls.

Maid of honor, Miss Cheryl McBride; matron of honor, Mrs. V. Carvell; bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Jones; and bridesmaid, Mrs. S. Godfrey, all wore gowns of pale pink crystal material with gloves and pleated bandeaux en tone.

Spring Is the Time for Birds, Buds and Dieting

MID-AFTERNOON—Glass of tomato juice.

DINNER—One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces), one-half cup squash (yellow preferable), one-half cup string beans, one glass skimmed milk, one apple.

If you have just a few pounds to lose it is easier to settle down for nine days and lose them than to diet a little, lose a little, gain the few lost pounds back, diet again, and so on, never really looking like you want to.

If you would like to have my nine-day reducing diet booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

So here I am singing of calorie counting rather than of romance. Happily, the two are often correlated. Calorie counting may lead to romance and vice versa.

Each day for nine days I will print the menus for the following day, so that you can get the necessary supplies in the house. Here are tomorrow's menus:

TUESDAY, APRIL 12 (First Day)
BREAKFAST—One egg, half grapefruit, one thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing, one slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat), one glass skimmed milk, one thin dry piece of whole wheat toast.

Double Ring Ceremony Performed
At Peddlesden-Blaus Wedding

Miss Lois June Blaus made a lovely picture Saturday evening as, on the arm of her father, she entered Centennial United Church to become the bride of Brian David Peddlesden.

Baskets of spring flowers were placed in the church for the double ring ceremony, performed by Rev. Douglas B. Carr for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blaus, 3680 Elliston Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Peddlesden, 1048 Inverness Avenue. "O Perfect Love" was sung by Mrs. W. J. Ranson, accompanied by Mrs. F. Wilmhurst.

The bride's gown was of lace and nylon net with an overskirt of lace that extended into a slight train. Long sleeves tapered to lily points at the wrist, and the collar was a stand-up style. Her chapel veil of embroidered nylon net was caught to a headress of pearls and rhinestones. She wore a pearl necklace, gift of the groom, and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis.

High Noon Wedding Unites
Victoria-Vancouver Families

At noon today in St. Augustine's Church, Vancouver, wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Patricia Mary Lynch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Lynch of that city and Lawrence Charles Jolivet, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jolivet, "Oakwood", RR4, Victoria.

Rev. Father Monahan officiated. Easter organ music was played and the church was decorated with lilies and spring flowers.

The bride, who walked up the aisle on the arm of her father, wore an eggshell white peau de soie gown cut on classic lines with long pointed sleeves, molded bodice with folded peal effect neckline and very full floor-length skirt with slight train.

Her heirloom white Spanish lace mantilla veil, train length, was mounted on two layers of illusion tulle and her spray bouquet was gardenias, freesia and white heather.

Trio of bridesmaids, Miss Jean Lynch, Miss Marion Lynch and Miss Marie Foley, wore street-length gowns of champagne silk taffeta and carried Johanna Hill roses. Their head bandeaux were of the same golden-toned rosebuds entwined with green leaves.

The bride's niece, Miss Janet Lynch, was a dainty flower girl in yellow and white dotted Swiss organdy with wreath of small yellow and white flowers in her hair. Master John Woodward, wearing a white satin suit with long trousers and pleated organdy ruff and cuffs, was the ring bearer.

Christopher Jukes acted as best man and the ushers were the bride's brother, Martin Lynch, who came from Toronto for the ceremony; William Whitall, John Lang Nichol and Beynon Housser.

Masses of spring flowers decorated the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held. Assisting in receiving guests were Mrs. Lynch, wearing a beige silk gown with small hat en tone, and Mrs. Jolivet, in a navy and white ensemble. Toast was proposed by Harold S. Foley.

The bride left on a honeymoon trip to Mexico wearing a deep cornflower blue dress-maker suit of silk and wool, with yellow and white flowered hat, accessories en tone, and navy shoes.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Jolivet will live at 1427 King Edward Avenue, Vancouver. Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Hamilton Harman and Maj. Gen. and Mrs. G. R. Pearkes of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. William Deming, Jr., and Miss Lucille Jones, Seattle, and Mr. Beynon Housser, Eugene, Ore.

Initial Money-Making Project

Mrs. H. Woods, president, and general convener Mrs. D. B. Roberts; Mrs. V. A. Smith and Mrs. W. W. Lewis, left to right, are members of a committee in charge of arrangements for an Easter bazaar and tea to be held in Eastern von Church Hall, Eastdowne Road, Oak Bay, on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. There will be stalls of needlework, white elephant, home cooking, candy, books, plants, ice cream and a lucky dip. Mrs. F. Norris will open the affair.

Double Rings Exchanged by Young Couple in Afternoon Ceremony

Marion Elizabeth Jones, held by a cap headdress of seed pearls to match her dress. She wore crystal beads belonging to her late maternal grandmother.

Miss Diane Richardson, the bride's only attendant, wore a primrose yellow antique taffeta ballet length dress with full skirt and fitted bodice. The square neckline was trimmed with wide lace of matching color.

Her headdress was of white roses, and she carried a bouquet of wedgewood blue iris and double narcissi.

Ernest Anastasiou was best man, and ushers, Norman A. Jones, brother of bride, and Mark Sharp, Vancouver.

A three-tier wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds centred the bride's table at a reception which followed in the trip motor to California, Mr. and Mrs. Rose will live in the Athlone Apartments, 895 Heywood Avenue.

Morning Wedding in Cathedral

Father A. J. MacDonald officiated at the wedding this morning at 10 a.m. in St. Andrew's Cathedral, when Margaret Mary Hynes, RN, and James Benedict Beaubien became man and wife.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. J. S. Hynes, 1536 Myrtle Avenue, and the late Dr. J. S. Hynes, Kelowna, B.C., and her husband the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beaubien, Chemainus, B.C.

Easter flowers decorated the church and wedding music was played by Miss M. MacKay, J. D. Maloney gave his niece in marriage.

Nylon net and lace fashioned the bridal gown, styled in waist-length with lace insets in the skirt and a halter bodice featuring a Queen Anne collar with jacket with lily point, finger-tip sleeves. A coronet of lace held the nylon net veil which flared to hem-length and the bride carried a white prayer book topped with a mauve orchid. Her only jewelry was a necklace and earrings of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Pat Hynes, the bride's sister, as maid of honor, wore a pale pink nylon net and taffeta dress with white feather headdress and carried deep rose carnations. Bridesmaid, Miss Pat Sullivan, RN, wore blue lace and net with white feather headdress and carried blue carnations.

The flower girl, Miss Mabel Beaubien, wore a blue taffeta gown with sweetheart blue net headdress and carried a basket of yellow carnations.

Best man was Verner Humer, Calgary, and the ushers, Robert Gaudy, Victoria, and Dominic Mika, Chemainus. A reception for 125 guests was held at the home of the bride's mother where a three-tier wedding cake centred the refreshment table, flanked by pink carnations and pink candles. The bride's uncle, Henry Amundred, Kelowna, B.C., proposed the toast.

For traveling on honeymoon to the Mainland of British Columbia and in the State of Washington, the bride wore a knitted suit in antique red with black bengaline duster coat, black accessories and orchid corsage.

On return Mr. and Mrs. Beaubien will live at 463 Chseler Avenue, Victoria.

Bible Carried by Bride At Wedding in Sidney

A white Bible topped with pink and white roses and delicate white ribbons was carried by Miss Margaret Daisy Moss when she exchanged marriage vows, Saturday evening with Frederick Cottrell Leak.

Her bridal gown of lace and net over satin was ankle-length and styled with full skirt and lace bodice. The chapel-length veil was held with a halo of orange blossoms and her only jewelry was rhinestone necklace and earrings. She was given in marriage by her father.

Canon Willis performed the ceremony in St. Mark's Church at Sidney, B.C., which was decorated with lilies and daffodils for the occasion. The congregation sang "O Perfect Love" during signing of the register.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moss, 688 Hillside Avenue, Victoria, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Leak, Sidney, B.C.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Dennis Poole, was gowned in powder blue brocaded satin and carried a colonial bouquet of complementing flowers. Flower girl, Miss Shirley Moss, wore a white nylon dress sprigged with flowers. Norman Leak was best man and ushers, Ron Moss brother of the bride, and Richard Emerson.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Emerson where a three-tier wedding cake, decorated by the bride's grandmother, centred a table covered with an ecru lace cloth. Pink roses and white candles completed the decorative motif.

Mothers of the young couple assisted in receiving guests and A. Palmer proposed a toast to the bride's happiness.

Traveling on honeymoon up-island and to the mainland Mrs. Leak wore a navy blue suit trimmed with white and navy accessories. On return Mr. and Mrs. Leak will live at 1711 Duchess Street, Victoria.

Spending Honeymoon On Salt Spring Island

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas George Pagdin, who were married on Saturday evening in Metropolitan United Church, are spending their honeymoon on Salt Spring Island.

Dr. F. E. H. James conducted the wedding ceremony for Miss Florence Mae Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy B. Long of Edmonton, Alta., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pagdin of Nelson, B.C. Baskets of spring flowers decorated the church. Organ music was played by Charles Palmer and "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You" were sung by Peter Brown. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Net over lustrous white bridal satin fashioned the wedding gown which was styled with full skirt and dainty lace jacket.

The bride carried a Job's Daughters' Bible, topped with an orchid sent to her by the Job's Daughters, Hillcrest, Alta., and Lily of the valley.

Bridesmaid Miss Maureen Quigg wore blue nylon net over blue taffeta with matching blue lace jacket and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations and ribbons. Jerry Pickering, Slocan City, B.C., was best man, and the ushers, Philip Pagdin and John Pagdin, cousins of the groom.

A reception was held in the ladies' parlor at Metropolitan United Church, where the groom's uncle, T. E. Pagdin, proposed the toast to the bride. Mothers of the young couple assisted in receiving guests.

On return Mr. and Mrs. Beaubien will live at 463 Chseler Avenue, Victoria.

Best man was Verner Humer, Calgary, and the ushers, Robert Gaudy, Victoria, and Dominic Mika, Chemainus. John Dunbar Sings Tonight on C-2's 'Parade' at 8

SUCCESS STORY:—It seems only the other day that Lorne

Greene read the nightly CBC news. Actually it is about fifteen years or so. That he has used the intervening years to good account in furthering his stature as an actor was most apparent Thursday evening when he appeared with Claud ette Colbert, Marilyn Erskine and Warren Stephens in the TV adaptation of "Private Worlds." The Ottawa-born actor held his own with the best of them.

Lorne Greene

... acts with the best of them.

Success may have been a long time coming to Mr. Greene but when it did come it came all the way. Only last week he appeared as Peter the Apostle in "The Silver Chalice," a Cinemascope adaptation of Thomas Costain's novel. He will also appear in the Stratford Shakespearean festival. It all started back in 1953 when Katharine Cornell chose him to play the lead in her Broadway production, "The Prescott Proposals."
This was his first big "break," and the string seems far from run out.

THE REASON?—We think we have discovered the great attraction that cowboy films hold for the moppets. It is the lack of subtlety. The plot is easier to understand than plays of other types because it is so clear-cut. There are the "good guys" and the "bad guys." They couldn't be marked more clearly if they were signs on their backs. So you cheer for the "good guys" and that is that.

WELL DONE!—Congratulations to the CBC for carrying the fine British religious film

"Behold The Man" on Good Friday. Done in pantomime it had depth, feeling, mood and above all, reverence. If it had not been for Channel 2 one wouldn't have known that it was Good Friday as far as TV was concerned, so scarce were the sacred programs.

Brundage Displeased With Olympic Plans

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Avery Brundage, American president of the International Olympic Committee, indicated dissatisfaction with Melbourne's preparations for the 1956 Olympic games when he held a final press conference here today.

He warned that there are two or three overseas cities which would like to play host to the 1956 games.

Asked whether the question arose of Melbourne yet losing the games, Brundage replied: "I hope not. But I am not sure."

Brundage, who has been in Australia to investigate preparations for next year's games, has made a tour of the sites for the various events.

Before his on-the-spot inspection, Brundage had expressed the opinion that only a war could take the games from Melbourne.

Today he said he could assess the position only on what had been done in six years and what little time remained to complete preparations. Melbourne was first awarded the games six years ago.

"They say all the work can be completed—but I don't know," he said.

"The work won't be done unless all rivalries and bitter-nesses are submerged, all jealousies harmonized, obstructions overcome and personalities forgotten."

CHOONG DEFEATED

U.S. Pair Captures Shuttle Title

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Joseph Alston, South Pasadena, Calif., and Wynn Rogers, Arcadia, Calif., defeated Eddie Choong, Penang, Malaya, and Daryl Thompson of Vancouver in the American Association of Open Badminton championships men's doubles finals Saturday. The score was 15-6, 12-15, 15-8.

Judy and Susan Devlin of Baltimore, Md., beat Janet Wright of San Francisco and Thelma Welcome of Glendale, Calif., 15-10, 15-10, 15-9, to win the women's doubles finals.

Alston earlier trounced Choong in straight sets, 15-3, 15-8, to take the national men's singles.

HAB SHIFT DENIED

MONTREAL (BUP)—Speculation that the National Hockey League franchise of the Montreal Canadiens might be moved to another city was described by NHL president Clarence Campbell as "arrant nonsense."

The Herald's Elmer Ferguson, writing from Detroit, said the league chief commented that the report was "so silly that it doesn't even warrant denial."

Grim Alcatraz Prison Soon To Be Discarded?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Prisons proposes to close grim Alcatraz prison in San Francisco Bay within possibly the next three or four years if the prisoner population of the United States doesn't grow too much, James V. Bennett, director of the federal prisons system, told a House of Representatives appropriations sub-committee.

Douk Home Enlarged For Seized Children

NEW DENVER, B.C. (CP)—Two prefabricated houses are being erected at the New Denver welfare home to ease overcrowding. Seventy-four Sons of Freedom—Doukhor children—are cared for and educated at the home.

The home became crowded when 40 children were taken from their Krestova homes in January by the welfare department because parents refused to send them to school.

Stuck With Plane

ATSUGI, Japan (AP)—A United States Marine pilot sacrificed his life today rather than let his F-2 Fury jet crash in Yokohama's crowded streets. The plane crashed into a hillside seven miles east of the naval air station here after the pilot, who name was withheld, developed engine trouble over Yokohama but refused to bail out over the city.

Social Outcast Wins

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Social Outcast won the $75,000 John B. Campbell Memorial handicap in a photo finish Saturday. He set a track record of 1:42.35 for the 1 1/16 miles.

V. V. Whitney's Fisherman was second and third was William G. Helis Jr.'s Helioscope, top weighted in the race.

FIREFIGHTERS WIN

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The Pacific Coast League Firefighters scored two second half goals to take a 2-1 victory from the Vancouver Firefighters in a Province Cup game here Saturday. Art Hughes and Gordie McLeod scored for the winners while Jim McGuckin scored for the losers.

A "strong body of opinion overseas" would still like to take the games away from Melbourne, he said.

TIME OUT!

"But so close to the plate umpire with Drensen and Richards the managers, Ed... should Junior see this game?"

Canada Urged To Enter World Soccer

TORONTO (CP)—Canada was urged Saturday to enter a team in world soccer competition.

Jimmy McGuire, North American representative to the World Federation of Soccer Associations, said by entering a team Canada would be making its first step toward world recognition as a soccer-minded country.

He was addressing the annual Football Association of Canada meeting. The executive will consider his proposal.

Jack Hendry of Vancouver was re-elected to his second term as president of the association. Arthur Arnold was re-elected vice-president.

Council members are: Dave Fryatt, British Columbia; Doug Baker, Alberta; Stu Little, Saskatchewan; Dr. W. Hagen, Manitoba; Bill Simpson, Ontario, and Jack McNamara, Quebec.

Finals of the Canadian championships, originally scheduled for Vancouver, will be played in eastern Canada, probably Toronto, Sept. 18, 20 and 21, it was decided.

Williston Talk Of Hydro Doused By Power Board

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—B.C. Power Commission chairman T. H. Crosby has confirmed his doubts concerning imminent power development involving use of Summit Lake.

Possibility of a huge hydro development in the area was outlined in a speech here by R. G. Williston, minister of education.

Mr. Crosby wrote: "We are making a study of the possibilities of this location," but added, "it appears doubtful that Summit Lake would provide a solution to the problem."

Canadian Girl Third

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Betty Mullen, a lieutenant in the army women's medical specialist corps, won the 100-yard butterfly title Saturday in the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union women's indoor swimming and diving championships.

Her time 1:50.4 bettered the mark of 1:56.5 set by Shelley Mann of Arlington, Va., last year. Miss Mann did not defend her title. Beth Whittall of Montreal, the Pan-American 100-yard butterfly champion, was third.

St. Lawrence Power To Be Sold in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Proposed contracts for the first sale of St. Lawrence River power in the United States will provide major portions to an aluminum plant in Massena, N.Y., and to the state of Vermont.

The city of Plattsburgh, N.Y., and the new air force bomber base being constructed there would get comparatively small amounts of the 700,000 kilowatts to be generated for U.S. use in the early years of the huge power plant now under construction.

All four users would pay the same rate of 2.67 mills a kilowatt, and any electricity sold to homes must be at cost plus "a reasonable return" on transmission facilities.

Details were contained in copies of the contracts made public Saturday by New York's state power authority. Public hearings will be held on the contracts May 10.

First delivery of power is expected late in 1958 or by January, 1959.

"It was natural for all boys to be swimmers, living on the coast. Germans like to have certificates for everything and they used to give us swimming certificates in school. When I was at the age when I was supposed to do 15 minutes, two friends and I passed the 45-minute test. When I took my certificate home, my mother scolded me for not doing 90 minutes."

Later, he swam up to four hours in the cold Baltic.

In 1937, war clouds began gathering over Europe and John's first indication of the strife that was to come occurred when his father was dragged away to a concentration camp. He never saw his father again.

After the war, John was farming in eastern Germany until he was forced to leave because "I caused some trouble."

The "trouble" started when Russian soldiers attempted to attack his four sisters. When his mother tried to protect her daughters, the soldiers shot the mother and the daughters.

"ANNOYED" THEM

"When they killed my family," John says, "I did not care what they did to me so I started doing little things to annoy them. I distributed anti-Communist pamphlets and agitated against the Communists."

In 1950, Giese was "hot." Communist police were searching for him and they did not care whether they found him dead or alive. He decided to cross the border to Western Germany and had almost reached the free world when he was almost overtaken by a border patrol.

"I think they were Russians," he said, "but I did not want to identify them because they were shooting at me."

After working in Hanover as a dairy helper and a bank clerk, John came to Canada three years ago.

While other swimmers chose to call the Strait of Juan de Fuca "the Everest of channel swimming," John smiles and says, "I don't like mountains. But I certainly want to make this swim as soon as I can."

6. Made and guaranteed by Polident.

Double your money back if wonderful Poli-Grip doesn't give you more comfort, more security than you ever had before!

Spy Trial Writer Refused Entry For B.C. Talks

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Ruben of New York, author of a number of controversial books on Communist spy trials, was refused entry to Canada Sunday for a speaking engagement.

Ruben, who wrote "The Atom Spy Hoax," was scheduled to speak under the auspices of the Sobell Committee in Vancouver.

He told reporters at Seattle later that he was met at the Vancouver airport by immigration officers who handed him a deportation order and placed him on a southbound plane.

Ruben said the immigration officials refused to give him any explanation.

Ruben's books deal with the Rosenberg-Sobell spy trials in the U.S. and the Klaus Fuchs espionage trial in Britain.

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were executed for treason and Morton Sobell was sentenced to a long jail term.

Sobell, 34-year-old radar expert, was convicted of complicity as a third defendant in the Rosenberg case and drew a maximum sentence of 30 years in prison.

N.S. Fishermen Survive 39 Hours Without Food

LIVERPOOL, N.S. (CP)—Five hardy fishermen rowed to safety Sunday night after 39 hours without food and water in an open dry in the Atlantic along the south shore of Nova Scotia.

Four of the men, crew members of the sunken fishing boat Irma and Rog II, walked 1 1/2 miles to a farmhouse. All were suffering from exposure and frostbite.

The fifth, too weak to walk and too heavy for his companions to carry, lay temporarily blinded on the beach until he was rescued by the RCMP who made their way to the rocky shore with a horse and wagon.

New Solarium Site Finally Confirmed

Gordon Head Property Considered Best As Directors Plan Early Announcement

Queen Alexandra Solarium board of directors has decided to proceed with construction of a long-planned new crippled children's hospital at Gordon Head in spite of recent objections to the site, it was learned today.

Construction date and other plans are to be announced this week, probably Wednesday, according to Solarium board president Justin Harbord.

It was learned recently the board was split on the final site, the old Holly Farm on Arbutus Road near Finnerly Road. Some members felt the area tended to be swampy in nature. But the site now has been confirmed.

A building campaign, operated by an outside firm which specializes in organizing drive funds, is currently underway, and will handle all publicity in connection with the new hospital.

$600,000 COST

The Solarium is estimated to cost more than $600,000. A bequest of $150,000, left by Bernard Stone, provided a foundation for the campaign which will seek to gather another $500,000.

The building will replace the present premises at Mill Bay. It will provide 70 beds, class-

Make Sure Perennials Are Protected During Cultivation

There are some plants which are so late in making spring growth that they are sometimes destroyed while still below the surface.

Garden fever reaches a fine pitch at this season of the year, often resulting in digging all apparently unoccupied areas.

The result can be that certain perennials just fail to come up! One late starter which comes to mind readily is incarnilla, a fleshy-rooted perennial bearing large rose-colored blooms, somewhat resembling glazias, on stems a foot or so tall, and rosette of deeply cut leaves.

In spite of the fact that the plant flowers during June, there is no sign of it until about the end of April. Unless its location is marked in some definite way it may too easily be cultivated out of existence.

Another slow starter which I came across accidentally during spring digging operations is platycodon. The blue balloon-shaped buds and large upturned bell flowers are so beautiful in summer that it would be a calamity to cut off the tops before they emerge from the soil.

Others in this group are thalictrum (meadow rue), airy and dainty filler for bouquets; Asclepias tuberosa (butterfly weed), a lovely bronze-gold summer bloomer, and Cerastium plumbaginoides (leadwort), a spot of deep blue in the fall border.

All are worthy of a little extra care to avoid damage in early spring. The easiest method I find is to place a tiny fence of twigs around each plant in the fall while top growth is still visible.

Formosa Fate Hung On Bandung Parley?

Chinese Reds Expected to Delay Attacks Until Outcome of 29-National Conference

(Leaders of 29 nations meet April 18 in Bandung, Indonesia, for what Moscow's Pravda calls "the first joint Africa-Asia conference in history.")

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The big African-Asian conference opening at Bandung, Indonesia, a week from today may be a big factor in Communist China's decision whether to attack in the Formosa area this spring or, in fact, at any time.

In any event, high United States officials have decided that the Chinese Reds are not likely to move on the Matsu or Quemoy islands before or during the conference.

It was disclosed authoritatively Sunday that President Eisenhower has directed American forces to stand clear of any initial attack on the coastal islands until he personally can determine the nature and intent of the assault.

That means no action by U.S. forces prior to orders from Washington, which is evidence of a desire to avoid any trigger-happy reaction under the pressures of a sudden crisis.

STAND IN READINESS

Persons familiar with the Washington administration's Far Eastern policies say Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists will be expected to bear the initial thrust of any attack that may develop. American forces are said to have been told to stand in readiness but not to join in the hostilities unless deliberately attacked.

Army Secretary Robert Stevens, returning Sunday from an inspection trip to the Far East, said he doesn't believe the Reds have any immediate plans for an offensive in the Formosa strait. If there is an attack, he thinks Chiang's forces could "give a good account of themselves."

American leaders attach great importance to the Bandung talks, not because of the issues which will come up but because of the diplomatic manoeuvres which will take place in conference corridors.

Contract Let For Apartments On Rithet Land

$120,000 O'Shea Job To Sutton & Sons

Contracts worth $120,000 have been awarded for construction of the first two of four apartment blocks to be built for Ambrose O'Shea at Humboldt and Fairfield, on the old Rithet estate. Builder will be Sutton & Sons.

Architects Wade and Stockhill said it is not known when contracts will be awarded for the final two buildings.

Each apartment block will be two-and-a-half stories, with 11 suites, colored stucco exterior with attached carports. Each suite will contain one bedroom.

CONVERSION DELAYED
An apartment conversion job designed by Birley & Simpson for V. Tashdjian of the Persian Art Store at 907 Government Street has been deferred until after the tourist season it is learned.

Tenders were opened recently when Luney Bros. & Hamilton Ltd. submitted the low figure of $13,880.

J. A. Pollard Construction Ltd. has been awarded contract for erection of business property for the plumbing supply firm of Alcock, Downing & Wright at Government and Hillside.

The building was designed by Wade, Stockhill & Armour with contract figure listed at $42,578.

MUNICIPAL ADDITION
Plans and specifications for Esquimalt's new wing, incident to the proposed reconstruction of the municipal hall, are scheduled to be studied at the next meeting of the Esquimalt council.

The new wing which will extend at an angle toward the street from the existing police quarters provides for increased police quarters and general office space. The council chamber will be extended in the main building.

EAMIGH MARTIN

Missionaries Speak Nightly This Week

Two veteran workers of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will speak nightly this week at Alliance Tabernacle, 1039 Yates Street.

The Rev. C. C. Eamigh of El Monte, Calif., and the Rev. Alvin Martin of Minneapolis will show films and curio of their respective mission fields tonight and each night this week at 7.45.

Rev. C. C. Eamigh went to Ecuador under the C. & M.A. in 1923, and has completed five terms of service among three distinct races and language groups, the Spanish-speaking people, the Quichua Indians of the Andean Highlands, and the Jivaro Indians of the Amazonian jungle. To reach these different tribes and peoples he has traveled extensively in evangelistic ministry, tract distribution and colportage work.

Among the Indians he also participated in the establishment of mission schools.

The Near East—crossroads of three continents, holy land of three religions; battleground of conflicting civilizations—has been the scene of Rev. Alvin Martin's activities since 1947 under the Christian and Missionary Alliance. In the most ancient of lands he has evangelized by the most modern methods, weekly radio broadcasts from the island of Cyprus heard throughout the Near and Middle East, and by filmstrips and motion pictures in Beersheba, capital city of the vast Negev.

Mr. Martin learned both the Arabic and Hebrew languages for his work in the Arab and Jewish fields, respectively.

Moscow's Red Carpet Out for Julius Raab

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Chancellor Julius Raab of Austria arrived by air today for Kremlin talks on the long-awaited state treaty which could end the four-power occupation of his country.

Raab and his party were invited to Moscow by Foreign Minister Molotov to discuss "questions relating to the conclusion of the state treaty with Austria."

Raab is expected to stay three days in an effort to seek clarification of the Russian attitude towards signing the treaty which would give Austria independence for the first time since Hitler took over 17 years ago.

The Austrians were flown here in a special Soviet airliner. On hand to greet them were Molotov and Anastas Mikoyan, a first deputy premier, Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister, and Western and other diplomats.

GUARD OF HONOR, BAND
A Soviet army guard of honor paraded and a brass band played the Soviet and Austrian national anthems.

Austrian and Soviet flags decorated the Moscow central airport, a Soviet air force flew only 10 minutes' drive from the Kremlin. This airport is normally closed to the public and is used only when distinguished visitors arrive.

The Austrian chancellor is seeking a way out of the east-west deadlock which has prevented conclusion of a treaty restoring Austrian sovereignty and ending the country's occupation by Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

New Strait Challenger

JOHN GIESE... he'll try Strait.

WANTED TO GO IT ALONE

25-Year-Old German New Swim Challenger

Another aspiring challenger of the Strait of Juan de Fuca arrived unannounced in the city over the Easter holiday.

He is 25-year-old John Giese, of Vancouver, an escapee from East Germany who has been in Canada only three years.

Giese, who has been swimming long distances for pleasure since he was a youngster, arrived here with the idea of jumping into the Strait and swimming it by himself without the aid of a tug or tender. He was dissuaded from this after discussing it with the Times and with experts of Island Tug and Barge Company who have been connected with all the Strait attempts.

At press time today he was attempting to make arrangements, despite a warning that only on Wednesday and Thursday of this week are tides likely to be favorable. "I want to do it soon, because I am being married in a month and am going to be in Summerland, B.C., working for the rest of the summer," he said. His wife-to-be is a Summerland girl, and once married he does not feel his wife would want him to try.

HARDY INDIVIDUAL
Giese has already made practice swims off Dallas Road, swimming one and one-half hours Sunday. Typical of his Spartan attitude to the swim is the fact that Sunday, he walked down to the waterfront, changed into his swimming trunks there, made his swim and, after emerging, "went for a walk to warm myself up."

Giese says the swim is "a challenge." He has been hoping to try it since last summer, when Florence Chadwick was defeated by the cruel 18 miles of turbulent water. Giese wanted to make his Strait bid alone because "I realize there is some danger in the swim and I did not want to involve anyone but myself. I wanted to take the full responsibility."

In preparation for the swim, Giese has been practicing for three weeks at Vancouver's Second Beach. He was employed in Vancouver sacking coal. He had a quota of 20 tons a day and appears to be in excellent physical shape. During his Vancouver training he swam up to two and one-half hours a day but did not keep a record of the water temperatures.

The six-foot three-inch 170 pounder ("I have lost some weight in training," he says) there is nothing special about his swimming. He uses the breaststroke exclusively and coats his body with cod-liver oil to stave off the cold.

In spite of his slender build, he says the cold temperatures do not bother him. "Sometimes my fingers get cold enough to be prickly but I keep my body under the water I do not notice the cold."

"SINK OR SWIM"
His philosophy on the swim indicates why he wanted to do it alone, as he says, "Once you start, you must keep going if there is no one to help you. It is what Canadians call 'sink or swim'."

Wolves Win To Regain Second Spot

LONDON (Reuters)—Wolverhampton Wanderers today rebounded into the race for the English League Division I soccer honors by edging Aston Villa 1-0 and so regaining second place behind idle front-running Chelsea.

Wolverhampton is five points behind Chelsea, with two fewer games played. It still has an outside chance of winning the league title for the second straight year.

Manchester City, which moved briefly into second spot after Saturday's games, dropped back to third by losing 2-1 to West Bromwich Albion. It is tied with Portsmouth, which fought back after being two goals down for a 2-2 tie with Charlton Athletic. (See scores Page 3).

B.C. Flash Flood

NAKUSP, B.C. (CP)—Residents today are reviewing the damage of a flash flood from a small, unnamed creek which caught the village by surprise during the week-end, wiping out gardens and threatening homes.

Thomas Starts Strait Assault Wednesday at 9

Horseshoe Bay
Take-Off Site

Weather permitting, Bert Thomas will begin his attempt at swimming Juan de Fuca Strait at 9 p.m. Wednesday from Horseshoe Bay, the spot chosen last August by fellow American Florence Chadwick.

The announcement was made this morning by Captain Hugh Evans, the Tacoma swimmer's navigator from Island Tug and Barge Ltd., who was not too optimistic that weather would clear in time for the swim.

Should weather or water conditions be unfavorable, the swim will be postponed until 10 p.m. Thursday. If still poor Thursday, no further attempt will be made until possibly the second week of May, Captain Evans said.

The swimmer will remain in the city until his swim can be started.

When Thomas leaves Horseshoe Bay on a flood tide in a south-southeasterly direction, the current should take him to a point east of Constance Bank, or about 4½ miles from the bay.

The course will then be set for south-southwest for a little over eight miles on an ebb tide. This course should carry Thomas approximately south-east of Race Rocks to low slack tide.

TIDE ASSIST

Third leg of the course should be in a south-by-easterly direction for about six miles with a light flood tide to assist. This should put the 25-year-old Tacoma on Ediz Hook at the mouth of Port Angeles harbor at the end of an estimated 11½ hours swimming time.

Vessels in the Thomas flotilla likely will include the tugs Island Champion, Island Trooper and Island Rascal, and the private schooner Black Dog.

With trainer Maurice Hume and Marion Thomas, Bert's wife, in the small boat near the swimmer will be Captain Evans' brother Dave, who will row or operate an outboard if one having a clutch can be obtained.

Official timers for the marathon will be Lionel Dickson and Doug Hobbs.

TRAINS TONIGHT

Final training jaunt will be made tonight at 6, between Clover Point and Trial Island. Thomas plans to leave the Causeway between 5 and 5:30 p.m.

Slated to begin her training at the end of May for an attempt on the Strait "sometime in July, when the water warms up," is Mrs. Ann Meraw, Vancouver housewife, who was in Victoria Sunday for a look around, and short workout at Crystal Garden.

Mrs. Meraw believes she holds the record for a 14-mile swim between Vancouver and Bowen Island at the mouth of Howe Sound. She is 36 years old and was an active swimmer for 16 years before her marriage. She has a 14-year-old son.

Mrs. Meraw said she would come to Victoria about the end of next month and stay until her swim trial.

A Torontonian, Pat Roach, will be in her boat during the swim, she said.

Red Delegates Lost In Airliner Crash

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—An Indian airliner carrying members of the Chinese Communist delegation to next week's Indonesia conference has crashed into the sea about 100 miles north of Kuching, Sarawak.

In New Delhi, L. C. Jain, Indian director-general of civil aviation, confirmed the crash of the chartered four-engine Air India Constellation and said the possibility of anyone being saved was "remote."

A report from Hong Kong quoted a usually reliable source as saying the airliner had 11 passengers aboard, of whom eight were minor Communist Chinese officials. The source said the others were two Polish journalists, Dr. Friedrich Jensen and Jeremi Starec, and a North Vietnamese named Vyong Pinphuong.

Radio reports monitored here said the plane had sent three SOS signals giving its position as 108 miles north of Kuching. All ships in the area were asked to look for the plane.

TWO KILLED IN HEAD-ON CAR CRASH

King George Highway
Scene of Tragedy

(From BUP and CP)

VANCOUVER — Two people were killed and two others seriously injured in a head-on collision on the King George Highway, 25 miles south of here, Sunday night.

The accident took the life of Peter Dingle of Vancouver and Mrs. Elda Carson, 28, of Bremerton, Wash.

A spokesman at the Royal Columbian Hospital said that Bob Irwin of Vancouver and Clarence Carlton, Bremerton, Wash., were in "good condition." The RCMP said one of the vehicles was trying to pass another on the highway and smashed into the second car.

The accident was the only fatal one of the Easter weekend reported in B.C.

Nearly two-thirds of those who died violently in Canada during the three-day Easter holiday weekend were killed in traffic accidents.

The toll was at least 35 with traffic accidents taking 22 lives. Warm weather and clear skies were general across Canada, drawing motorists to the highways.

ONTARIO HIGHEST

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Thursday showed Ontario with the highest toll—15. Quebec was second with nine.

No deaths were reported from Newfoundland, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Nova Scotia had one traffic fatality.

Eight deaths were reported from the Prairie provinces. Alberta had four while Saskatchewan and Manitoba had two each.

Drawings took four lives and two persons died in fires. There were two accidental chokings.

Ottawa Receives Report on Probe Of Loss Leaders

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has received a report from the restrictive trade practices commission on its investigation into the extent and use of loss leader selling by retailers.

Justice Minister Garson said the report will be tabled in the Commons shortly after the House reconvenes following the Easter recess. Its contents will remain secret until the tabling.

The three-member commission sat for four weeks last fall at Vancouver, Victoria, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa.

Starts Here Monday

Next Monday about 5,000 Greater Victoria children will start receiving injections of famed Salk anti-polio vaccine at city schools. Dr. Jonas E. Salk is seen above supervising an injection. Grade ones and pre-grade ones will get free injections. City drugstores expect stocks of vaccine shortly for sale to doctors. But stocks will be limited.

Bandit Kidnaps Pair, Robs Safe of $1,447

Vancouver Theatre Owner, Mother
Tied to Doorstep After Armed Holdup

VANCOUVER (CP)—A bandit kidnapped a drive-in cinema owner and his mother early today, drove them to the theatre, and at gunpoint forced them to open a safe and hand over $1,447.

William Steel, 35, and his mother, Mrs. Ada I. Steel, were taken by surprise when the gunman intercepted them as they arrived at their suburban Burnaby home after a midnight show.

Mr. Steel attacked the bandit with an iron but he was stunned by a blow over the head with a revolver.

The man then tied their hands with wire and drove to the cinema.

TIED TO DOORPOST

Before escaping with $1,447, he tied Mr. Steel and his mother to the doorpost of the projection room.

The gunman drove off in the Steel's car, which was later recovered in the east end district of Vancouver.

Mr. Steel managed to free himself and call police.

"I saw him standing in the dark when I walked into the kitchen," Mr. Steel told RCMP in Burnaby.

"The man didn't say anything but I knew what he was up to. The ironing board was nearby so I just grabbed the iron and threw it at him. It landed a little too low. And then he slugged me with the revolver."

B.C. Unionist Stirs Storm In Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (BUP)—Former Canadian trade unionist Jim Bury has caused a storm of anger throughout Kenya by describing working conditions in the colony as "lousy."

Bury, former secretary of the Vancouver labor council, is in Kenya as "ambassador of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions."

In a recent article in the American CIO Journal, Bury criticized Kenya conditions.

"The small European settler group of 40,000 monopolize all the good land in Kenya," he wrote. "The minimum wage, and often the maximum, is $7 a month. On $7, you are lucky to stay alive."

Bury's article was reproduced by the leading Nairobi newspapers and was followed immediately by demands that he be deported.

WIRE BRIEFS

Lattimore Trial

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today urged the U.S. court of appeals to reinstate two key counts in its perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore.

Federal Judge Luther W. Youngdahl threw out the core of the government's case against the Far East expert last January.

90% Success Seen By Medical Experts; Data Due Tuesday

HSBy ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—This college town seethed with rumors today over the Salk polio vaccine—mostly high optimism that it has been a success and can end the fear of polio.

Guesses as to the effectiveness of the vaccine ranged up to 90 per cent or higher, or called it "an unqualified success."

But the big secret—just how well it worked in tests last year—was being kept securely under wraps.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., who completed writing his 100-page report only Sunday, wasn't talking.

He will reveal his findings at 7:20 a.m. (PST) Tuesday to a scientific gathering of 400 scientists and physicians.

NO SPECIFIC CLUES

A press conference this morning by top polio vaccine leaders did nothing to dampen the general optimism, nor did it yield specific clues. Dr. Francis, University of Michigan; Dr. Jonas Salk, University of Pittsburgh; scientist who developed vaccine; and Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, answered some questions but not others.

Dr. Salk will present a scientific report on the vaccine after Dr. Francis discloses his mass-test findings. Dr. Salk has completed this report without knowing what Dr. Francis will say.

It is understood Dr. Salk will report new findings on improving the vaccine since its use a year ago in the tests.

He finds it clearly safe to use, and potent in producing protective antibodies. From his tests on some 8,000 children.

But the big question is whether these antibodies protect children exposed to actual polio. Only the huge-scale tests could answer that. Dr. Salk's own series of tests is too small to give the answer.

SOME DON'T RESPOND

Dr. Francis and Dr. Salk hinted today that the vaccine would not be expected to produce the same degree of protection for everyone inoculated.

Dr. Francis said he would give "numerical expressions" of the effectiveness of the vaccine but would not necessarily pronounce it a success or failure.

How the public will react to the big announcement concerns some scientists on the scene.

MORAL TEST

"It could become a test of our moral fibre," one scientist said. "Will it start a stampede, like a theatre fire, to get vaccine at any cost? Will there be bootlegging, venality?"

"Or will parents demand intelligent self-control of themselves and others to insist the vaccine be used where it will do the most good to reduce polio—among young children and pregnant women?"

"Suppose the vaccine is found ineffective, or less than perfect? How much dismay or loss of confidence may result? A vaccine can be a success without being surefire. Fire-proofing buildings does not eliminate all fires, but it does drastically reduce the amount of destruction."

TORONTO (CP)—Connaught Laboratories of the University of Toronto developed the pure chemical medium in which polio virus is grown for Salk vaccination purposes.

The medium is a synthesis of 61 chemicals in which living tissues from the kidneys of monkeys are placed.

Connaught Laboratories formerly supplied the bulk of the virus for preparation of the vaccine in the United States and still supply a small amount. They have produced enough vaccine for 600,000 children.

South Manitoba Freshets Flood Rich Farmlands

Bridges Submerged,
Homes Surrounded

WINNIPEG (CP)—Spring freshets sent creeks and rivers over their banks in southern Manitoba during the week-end, flooding thousands of acres of rich farmland and scores of rural basements. No casualties were reported.

Hardest hit as the spring runoff was accelerated by a record April 10 temperature of 76 degrees were the outskirts of Winnipeg, and the Oakville-Poplar Point district, 30 miles west of here.

The Red River today had reached 17 feet above average winter ice level and was continuing to rise at the rate of one-tenth of a foot an hour. Engineering officials said no flood was expected on the Red. First flood stage is 18.6 feet above winter ice, and dikes protect the city up to 26.5 feet and as high as 30.3 feet in places.

SANDBAGS RUSHED

Te village of Elie, 22 miles west of Winnipeg, appealed for sandbags and boats as water from the Assiniboine poured over low-lying land and into the nearby Lasalle River channel. Two boats and 1,000 sandbags were rushed to the community.

At least 10 homes in the west end of Elie were surrounded. Neighboring farmers reported two feet of water in their homes.

In Winnipeg, sewage pumping stations, installed along dikes after a disastrous flood in 1950 caused sewers to back up into basements, got their first workout today in three localities.

HOMES CIRCLED BY WATER

More than 100 homes southeast of Winnipeg were surrounded by water from the normally placid Seine River which joins the Red at Winnipeg. At least four bridges were submerged. Water covered the tracks of the Soo Line railway bridge but traffic continued. Police said some homes had been evacuated.

Panic Spreads as New Earthquake Rocks Mindanao in Philippines

MANILA (Reuters)—An earthquake, which seismologists fear may be worse than the disaster 10 days ago in which some 400 persons were killed, shook Mindanao Island in the southern Philippines today.

In Dansalan City, where 350 persons died in the earlier quake, the residents panicked, according to reports received here.

No definite report of casualties or damage in today's earthquake was received.

The latest reports on Mindanao's earlier earthquake list 416 dead, 792 injured and 151 missing; Lake Lanao, near Dansalan City, dropped six feet and many natives died in the villages along its shores.

Prisoners in Dansalan City jail tried to escape at the height of today's earthquake which damaged prison buildings. Disorder broke out but no one escaped.
